

Freshman Rumors False

by Faiger Blackwell

There have been many rumors formed about the number of new students planning to attend WSSU in the fall. The most frequently heard rumor is that there will be 900 entering freshmen for the 1975-76 school year. However, this rumor was recently discredited by Mrs. Fannie Williams, Director of the Admission Office. She stated that between 450-475 freshmen students are expected to enroll for the fall semester.

This alone should ease the overcrowding on campus to an extent, but three men to a room is still expected in Brown Hall. This situation affects many students subjected to it and creates quite a few problems. For example, the existing conditions make it impossible to study for classes in your own room. Thus, averages may drop as a result. It's also rare that when all three roommates can agree on any one issue... loudness of music, study hours, waking hours, etc.

Since tuition is going up next year, the students naturally expect better facilities for their money. Some are even talking about transferring if the situation doesn't improve next year. So, it seems as though the number of freshman could or rather will determine the degree of comfort upper classmen receive next year.

Measures are already being taken to make sure accommodations are better next year. Preferences in roommates, also a reduction in the freshman class are two such methods. However, for the most part, the situation will remain the same until new housing facilities are built.

DEBRA JOHNSON

Often times, we witness elected representatives "go through changes" that we never thought them capable of at the time of election. But I am of the opinion that you elect people for what they are and that is what you expect them to continue to be even after the elections. If you vote for me, Debra Johnson, you can be assured that you will get the type of representation you voted for.

800 schools and the Army are making college a reality for more young people.

About eighteen months ago, the Army began to develop a bold, new concept in cooperative education. Project Ahead.

The program began at one university in the Midwest. Interest was so great the Army decided to expand it across the country. Today, the program involves more than 800 colleges and universities. And it's still growing.

Project Ahead's structure is basically simple. But its benefits to young people and their parents are enormous.

First of all, it is a unique individualized education plan. One that allows you to choose, if you qualify, an "alma mater" before you enlist. (Normally a participating school in your home area.) So no matter which college or colleges you attend while in the Army, you'll know beforehand the courses you'll need for credit at the school you want to graduate from.

Secondly, the Army provides financial aid. College courses are available to you while you're in the Army. And the Army will pay up to 75% of the tuition for these courses. (After your enlistment's over, you'll be eligible for 36 months of financial assistance under the G.I. Bill.)

Mathematics Group Involvement

Last month members of the Mathematics Group Society went to North Carolina A & T State University to view the film, "Predicting At Random" featuring the mathematician, Dr. David Blackwell. The trip was one of many planned activities of interchange between students and faculty of both Universities. Students making the trip included Miss Karen Coleman, Mrs. Julian McIntyre, Mrs. Carl Morrison, Mr. Andrew Sauls, Mr. Gregory Teel, Mr. Everett Torrence and Mr. Bobby Wiggs. Faculty members participating were Mrs. Merdis McCarter, Mrs. Virginia Newell, Dr. Martha Rossitch and Miss Mary Jane Williams.

The Mathematics Group Society presented a program on March 19th in Hill Hall. Mrs. Virginia Newell presented a number theory research problem on "High - Low Subtraction of Integers." One of the mathematics majors, Mr. Larry Brown presented a paper on Determinants. Dr. Nathan Simms gave a Mathematical Pep Talk. The high light of the program was a panel discussion: If Art Appreciation For Credit, Then May I Elect Math Appreciation For Survival? Or, Should Basic Math Be Offered At WSSU For Credit? The moderator of the panel discussion was Miss Patricia Smith. Panelists included Miss Lisa Fisher, Mr. Grant Gilliam, Miss Ruby Grantham, Mrs. Gladys Miller, Mr. Carl Morrison, Mr. Everett Torrence and Mr. H.C. Wilkes.

On April 3rd, Mr. Edward D. Williams, a Senior Mathematics Major from North Carolina A & T State University presented a paper to the Society entitled "Cross Ratio of Four Points."

On April 10th, members of the Society went to North Carolina A & T State University to hear a lecture by Dr. Theodore Sykes, Chairman of the Mathematics Department at Fisk University.

Student Poetry

Corruption

by Karla Miller

It's made of paper.
It's green and white.
It has writing on it, a certified number
a man's picture.
What is it?

It's made of silver.
With a round shape.
"With God We Trust"
inscribed on it.
What is it?

It's made of copper.
Has Lincoln's picture on it.
We pay taxes with it.
It makes us what we are.
What is it?

It's what we strive to have the most of:
Corruption.

Need a date?

Are you tired of those countless nights you're left alone on this island of desperation while your roommate is constantly on the go? Do you feel life's express is just passing you by - not giving you a chance to hop on for a ride? You need a change, you need excitement...you need a date!

Stress your personal specifications and mold that ravishing Amazon or gorgeous hunk of Mr. Wonderful by simply filling out the questionnaire available in the Potpourri Room located upstairs in the Student Union, adjacent to the Music Listening Room.

The Potpourri Room, under the supervision of Mrs. Elaine Brown is designed to provide students with a variety of services including the dating program. Applicants are matched with a companion whose interests and hobbies coincide closely with their own. These dates are selected from other persons who apply.

A travel guide which provides students with information beneficial to planning a special trip or acts as a source of information on other colleges is also located in the room. In addition, the latest book reviews, and movies as well as current song charts and astrological forecasts are provided. A source for general information about the community can also be found in the Potpourri Room.

Take advantage of this room of variety, and fill a lonely night with a special someone, a book or a movie.
