Art Exhibit

10 BLACK WOMEN TEN, an invitational exhibition, opens Sunday, February 3, 1985 at Gallery 214 in Winston Square. Urban Arts of the Arts Council sponsors this exhibit, which runs through February 25.

10 BLACK WOMEN TEN features works by ten black female professional artists. They are Valery Bates, Anne Brewer, Mable Bullock, Sherida Cosby, Arcenia Davis, Barbara Eure, Lana Henderson, Eva Miller, and Valerie Reppress. The artists' works represent a wide variety of styles and reflect major trends in art.

The 10 BLACK WOMEN TEN exhibit serves three purposes: 1) it expresses Urban Arts' continued commitment to minority visual artists in the Forsyth County/North Carolina area by providing an opportunity for display of their work in one of the city's premiere galleries. All works in 10 BLACK WOMEN TEN are recently produced and never shown locally; 2) the exhibit highlights Black History Month (February) by focusing on minority artists. Black History Month provides all Americans a special opportunity to learn about and acknowledge the contributions of black Americans to the growth, development, and prosperity of the United States; and 3) the exhibit brings arts and cultural programming to non traditional audiences, affording an experience that Urban art hopes will stimulate and encourage their development as consumers and critics of art.

10 BLACK WOMEN TEN is free and open to the public. Hours are 9 AM to 9 PM Monday Through Saturday; 1 to 5 PM Sunday. Gallery 214 is located at 226 North Marshall Street, Winston-Salem.

Entertainers

MILWAUKEE -- A group of America's most gifted and respected entertainers have "lifted their voices" in a stirring, emotional musical tribute to the heritage and traditions of black America.

Singers Deniece Williams, Al Green, Melba Moore, Roberta Flack and Patti Austin are featured on a new recording of a song often referred to as the "Black National Anthem." Narration is by accomplished actors Ossie Davis and Ruby Dee.

The song - "Lift Every Voice and Sing" - was written by noted black poet and civil rights leader James Weldon Johnson and was originally set to music by his brother, Jay Johnson, actor-musician.

The anthem is often sung at public gatherings, although the last known recording of the song reportedly was made at least 25 years ago.

This latest rendition of the anthem, with arrangements by Leon Pendarvis, is being distributed to selected radio stations across the United States by Lite beer from Miller for airing during February - Black History Month.

The concept for the special recording was developed by Mingo-Jones Advertising, New York, for the Miller Brewing Company.

"The anthem is about faith, hope and, above all the pride and dignity of a people," said Barry Barrett, Lite brand manager.
