

Seniors Leave Last Will and Testaments

I Joann Maiden, leave all my awareness and insight about the plight of black America to: Vetta, Belinda and Toni. I leave my dirty junky side of the room to Ginger. And I leave good wishes and luck to all those who strive to fulfill all their goals.

I Cheryl A. Lide, being of somewhat of sound mind do hereby bequeath all my wordly possessions to my comrades in studies:

To Arthur Johnson, any boon coon I leave all my old research papers (You may use them in Grad School).

To Angela Corbett: I leave to you my former position as Editor-in-Cheif of the New's Argus.

To Yolanda Jones: I leave a dark pair of shades for M.B. Class.

To Carla Johnson: I leave a bottle of No-Doze.

To D.H.: I leave my personality because you could use a new one.

To Mrs. Smith: I leave nothing because you have all you'll ever need in life.

I Madison Harding will the yearbook staff the ability to avoid bad situations.

I Stanley Harding will the residents of Bickett Hall a black magic marker to completely cover the walls with graffiti.

Most Memorable Experience At WSSU

My most memorable experience at WSSU has been my appointment as Editor-in-Cheif of the News Argus.

I enjoyed the other students I worked with and learned that students don't mind turning out work if class is exciting rather than tedious.

C.A. Lide

I, Arthur Johnson, being of sound mind and body do hereby leave the following Will and Testamet:

To Victor Coffey: I leave all the headaches and frustration that go along with W.S.W.C. Music Director's Job.

To Dojer James: I leave my big mouth so everyone can hear you when you talk.

To Harold "Pa Poose" Jones: I leave my witt and charm so you won't be "Poose on the lose."

To Carter Cue: I leave my ability to speak so other people can understand what you say when you talk.

To Danita Rucks: I leave my production skills because you will need them.

To Velois Fleming: I leave my D.J. skills because you definitely need them.

To Rita Archer: I leave my sense of humor because you will need it in the future.

To Carla Johnson and Carol Brannon: I leave my best wishes.

To Reggie Speller: I leave a month's worth of quarters to play Moon Patrol.

I, Michael King leave all of the money that the school owes me to my wild roommate that lives in the dorm.

I, Robert Neal leave to Carey and Ken all the good times and the memories. I also leave my heart to all.

I Ralph F. McKnight leave all my Brothers of the International Fraternity of Delta Signia Pi. Best Wishes throughout the years.

I Janis M. Davenport leave to my sister Mona, Luck and Best wishes.

I, Robbie R. Allen leave my locker in Ellen Hall to Cynthia White. Keep on striving to succeed and best wishes through the years.

I Dennis Williams leave all of my skills and intelligence to my home boys. Good luck through this journey, and best wishes.

Have you ever wondered how the Egyptians, Greek and Romans made clay jugs so huge that you could climb inside? Learn sectional throwing and torch stiffening techniques to achieve large forms by attending "Making It Big with Leon Nihcols". The workshop is scheduled for May 18-19th, at the Sawtooth Center.

There's no doubt you're going to make it in the real world, but what about your car?
