

Meetings From The Editor

As a festive aura hovers over Winston-Salem State University the mood is set for Homecoming 1985. Let the celebration begin! Homecoming '85 is destined to be "unforgettable" in every sense.

Of course when those Fighting and Marching Rams combined there is never a dull moment during Homecoming. However, this year's festivities are destined to be quite spicy and different.

During 1985 Winston-Salem State salutes new Chancellor Cleon Thompson Jr. and SGA president Joy Bridges, who along with others have produced a gala event students have prayed for in years past.

This spectacular event is at 7 p.m. and 10 p.m. in the Kenneth R. Williams auditorium and will feature Freddie Jackson and Melba Moore. Unlike the past this show is expected to be a complete success.

Once again the time has elapsed for students, faculty, alumni and visitors to join the Ram family in their annual celebration. As Editor-in-Chief of The News Argus, I would like to welcome you to the campus this festive weekend.

Throughout the day hopefully everyone will support the football game and other scheduled events. WSSU has set the pace, but its up to you to make it happen.

Sincerely,
Angela M. Corbett
Editor-in-Chief

Dance Club Is Back in Action

The Winston-Salem State University Dance Club is back at it again, but under a new coordinator Mrs. Jacquelyn Chance. She has danced professionally with several modern dance companies in New York, and with the jazz company, "Impulse" of Boston, Massachusetts. Mrs. Chance received her master's degree from Columbia University.

The Dance Club classes and rehearsals meet on Tuesday and Thursdays from 3:30 p.m. to 5 p.m. The club is open to anyone who has a special interest in dance. The company is comprised of male and female students whose abilities range from no dance experience, to several years of jazz, modern, or ballet training.

The Dance Club has an eclectic repertoire which includes modern, jazz, ballet, comedy, and folk dancing. The first performance, which is mainly a "sneak preview," is scheduled for December.

The officers of the Dance Club are: President - Cynthia Tyson, Vice President - Sharon Moss, Publicity - Andre's Crosby, and Costumes - Yvette Scott.

Chancellor Continued

to the student body Thompson's first priority is to conduct a study of our General Studies program and make improvements if needed; second a comprehensive study of each major offered; third efforts will be made to improve quality of faculty members and fourth to improve the quality of students. These goals have been set so that graduates and faculty will be able to perform outside the institution, compete on any level, and pass any examination given.

Our new chancellor has voiced that students are without a doubt top priority, but it takes student support to accomplish the great mission planned for academic success!

People Around Here (Campus Happenings)

Dr. Larry Hungerford, director of the Center for Economic Education at Winston-Salem State University, recently conducted four ten-hour workshops attended by 88 public school teachers.

Twenty-five K-3 teachers earned an in-service unit for attending "Teaching Economic Concepts in the Primary Grade" in North Wilkesboro. An additional 63 high school teachers attended three workshops on "Deficits and Taxes" in Boonville, Hickory and Mt. Airy.

Tunja J. Cunningham, a freshman at Winston-Salem State University, has been awarded a National Achievement Scholarship of $2,000 from the National Merit Scholarship Corporation. She is the daughter of Mrs. Doris Cunningham of Winston-Salem.

1985-86 Editorial Staff of The News Argus: Victor Coffey, Managing Editor; Angela Corbett, Editor-in-Chief; Karla Barksdale, News Editor; Yolanda Jones, Office/Business Manager; Alisa Wilson, Assignment Editor; Robert Toran, Sports Editor; Pam Murrell, Circulation Manager. Others pictured: Joy Bridges, Danita Rucks, and Deborah Sharpe.

Gaines Center Has New Fitness Center

by Alisa Wilson
Assignment Editor

Overweight? Eating too much? Eating the wrong foods? (Yes I'm talking to you)

These are the concerns of the new coordinator of the fitness center for the students, faculty/staff and community.

Dr. Carolyn Blount is a new assistant professor in the Physical Education Department. Besides coordinating the fitness center, Dr. Blount also teaches science courses such as kinesiology, Exercise Physiology and Test & Management for the Physical Education majors.

One of Dr. Blount's main goals for the fitness center is to help Physical Education and Nursing majors form good lab experience for working in a fitness environment.

Dr. Blount feels that she will really enjoy her job because she likes to be challenged, she says that she would not be able to work in a boring environment for very long.

She received her BS degree in Physical Education and dance, and her MS in Exercise Science at Wake Forest University. She received her Ph.D. at Texas A&M University where she also did some lecturing and graduate assistant teaching.

She has held many other job titles including fitness coordinator on a cruise ship and Exercise Technician at Wake Forest University where her husband is currently an instructor. Dr. Blount has also done some very interesting presentations and publications dealing with fitness.

The new Exercise Physiology Lab, which is located in the C.E. Gaines Complex, is for fitness evaluation, losing weight, flexibility testing, fitness and testing and/or your own personal fitness program.

Sessions on dieting will begin meeting Monday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings from 5:30 to 6:00 beginning, October 21st. Exercise classes will be held at noon on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 12:00 to 12:45. Dr. Blount hopes to get a good response from the community and from campus.

Some suggestions that Dr. Blount had concerning the health of people who are constantly on the run and don't seem to have the time to stop for exercising or a good healthy meal are: "if you get yourself in this condition, you will probably have a lot of built up stress because you don't have an outlet and the best remedy is to make it a daily priority to get in some exercise."

WSSU students have no excuse for not going to the fitness center ... fitness evaluation is free for students.

Mass Communications Majors Represent Organizations in Coronation. Deborah Sharpe, Danita Rucks and Alisa Wilson. Photo by Peele

The News Argus Staff

Angela Corbett.....Editor-in-chief
Victor Coffey.....Managing Editor
Alisa A. Wilson.....Assignment Editor
Karla Barksdale.....News Editor
Robert Toran.....Sports Editor
Pamela Murrell.....Circulation Manager
Tonya McDougal.....Advertising Manager
Deborah Sharpe and Danita Rucks.....Layout Editors
Yolanda V. Jones.....Business/Office Manager
Michael Peele.....Photographer
Dr. Valerie S. Sandler.....Advisor