

Seniors Leave Last Wills and Testaments!

I, Debbie Smith, being of sound buy burnt-out mind and body, leave to the students in the Communication Arts Department all of its wonderful instructors who have made my years at WSSU unforgettable. Adios Amigos.

I, Joy Bridges, in sound mind and body, I leave to Vivian Marlowe, my great roomie, the will to work and to graduate soon! Rita Archer, the strength to deal. Lisha, Annie, Ken & Carrie, my worn out deck of playing cards, and the will to strive and graduate.

I, Wanda Darby, would like to leave the following words of encouragement. "When things go wrong; as they sometimes will, when the road you're trudging seems all uphill, When the funds are low and the debts are high. And when you want to smile, but you have to sigh, When care is pressing you down a bit, rest if you must, but don't you quit."

I, Janice Gaddy, being of sometimes sound mind and body, would like to leave Ground floor Moore Hall, the use of Gina Turner and Michelle Simpson; "Hope you ladies know what you are getting into." (Ha, Ha) To Delta Omicron music fraternity, I leave all my encouragements.

I, Becky Jones, being of somewhat sound mind and body, has but one prized possession to leave behind. For the outside trash can beside the auditorium, I leave my tattered old notebook which I carried faithfully for four years.

I, Alice Lewter, would like to thank the people who were inspirational to me during my years here. A special thanks to Mom and Dad. May God Bless You.

Robert Toran:

"I would like to encourage rising Seniors to apply themselves in a manner worthwhile and change things you can't accept and accept things you can change."

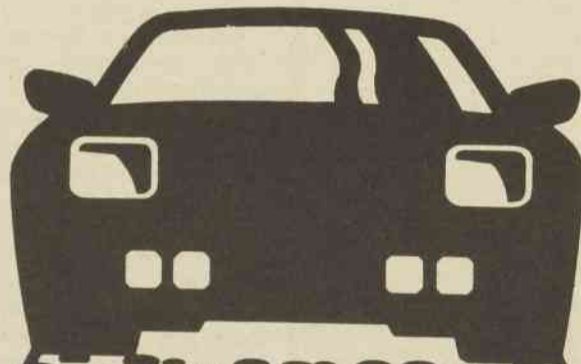

Chris Preston

"I would like to leave the thought of keeping the dream alive."

Cindy Pompey

"I would like to leave my sense of good humor to all of my teammates on the WSSU softball team, while departing as champions."
