

CAMPUS HAPPENINGS

Daniels Heads To Local Television Station

BY DEVONA MCPHATTER
Staff Writer

The Department of Mass Communications recently said "Good Luck and God speed" to one of its staff members, Joseph Daniels Jr.

Daniels, who had served as the department's radio/television engineer for four years, left to take a position at WGHP-Channel 8 in High Point.

Most of the students (who came in contact with him) felt Daniels was a hard worker who loved his students.

"Mr. Daniels was just like one of us. He never acted like he was better than any of his students and he treated us like we were his equal. That's why students swarmed his office everyday to speak to him and eagerly learn from him," said Celena Wynn, a junior Mass Communications major. She was also one of his former Work Study students.

"Mr. Daniels was worth more than he was being showed. He was the best at what he does and I am going to miss him," said Queyana Woods, a junior Mass Communications major.

Born in Cincinnati, Ohio, Daniels and his family moved to Winston-Salem, where he graduated from East Forsyth High School and Winston-Salem State University. He received his bachelor's degree in Music Education in 1976.

While here at WSSU, he not only worked at WSNC-FM 90.5, the campus radio station, as the engineer, but he also taught a popular culture music course. He also taught his work study students different radio and television skills and techniques.

Daniels is married to Shelita Daniels. He has a teenage daughter named Nicole.

According to Daniels, one of the biggest events of his life occurred recently when the university named one of the conference room in Wilson Hall after his father, Joseph Daniels, Sr.

WSSU's College Choir Adopts A Highway

BY JAMITA GRIFFIN
Editor

"I just wanted to give something back to the community, and it was important that I do it in a black neighborhood," said Kenyetta Richmond, president of the WSSU University Choir.

Richmond was crowned Miss University Choir 1993-94, during October's Homecoming activities. She and other choir members decided that their queen would be visible beyond the coronation and Homecoming Week activities.

They decided to do something positive for the community by adopting a highway.

"When she (Richmond) came up with the idea, I was very excited about it," said Calsine Pitt, vice-president of the University Choir. "I enjoy doing this for our black community."

The choir's two mile-long stretch of highway is located on Carver School

Kenyetta Richmond

Road. The only requirement after adopting a highway is to clean it at least four times during the course of one year or when the organization see fit. There are certain color of bags to pick-up the different types of trash. The organization has to recycle the aluminum on their own. "It is not much, but we do earn a little money, said Richmond." "Keeping our black neighborhoods nice and clean is our goal," she continued.

Before adopting the highway, they had to have at least 15 signatures stating that the highway will be kept clean.

"Our black community does a lot for us, and this is just our way of giving back to our community."

Greek Corner: DST and AKA

Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc.

BY QUEYANA WOODS
Staff Writer

On January 13, 1913 at Howard University, 22 young women formed a sisterhood based on service to the community and all mankind. They bonded together to form Delta Sigma Theta Sorority Inc.

The ladies Gamma Phi Chapter who wear the crimson and cream have been quite busy. During the summer, the Deltas began a Black Entrepreneurship Workshop Series where African-American entrepreneurs came to campus and provided WSSU students with tips on how to become business owners.

A Fire Prevention Seminar, Campus Clean-Up activity, a Freshman Talk seminar, a Hospice seminar and a Greek Forum are some of the activities sponsored by the sorority this semester.

During High School Open House

Weekend, three Deltas lead a campus tour for a group of students from Statesville High School. On October 9th, the chapter will participate in the Crop Walk 1994.

In November the sorority sponsored a Self Defense Workshop, tutored children at a local elementary school and presented another workshop in its Black Entrepreneurs Series.

The 1994-1995 Gamma Phi officers are: President, Jacqueline Jackson; First Vice President, Shanta Yelverton; Treasurer, Sherritta Johnson; and Financial Secretary, Sylvia McMillan. Miss Delta Sigma Theta is Jacqueline Jackson and Miss Gamma Phi is Kenya Mitchell. Miss Winston-Salem State University 1994, Kimberly Alexander, is also a member of Gamma Phi.

"Gamma Phi Chapter of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc., is fully committed in advancing education, improving health care and helping people to become aware of political issues," said Kenya Mitchell.

Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Inc.

"Gamma Lambda is made up of very different and unique women, but we all come together as one to perform service to all," said chapter member Letitia Rainey.

On January 15, 1908, Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Inc., was founded at Howard University by twenty young women. Gamma Lambda Chapter was founded here at Winston-Salem State University.

Since this academic year began, the members of Gamma Lambda have been very busy. They have adopted a stretch of Stratford Road in the Adopt-a-Highway Program and participated in a Campus Clean-up project.

Other projects for the remainder of the semester include: AKA Water Day/Day for the Homeless, visiting Oaks Rest Home, Senior Citizen's Day, Halloween Candy giveaway to members of the Girls and Boys Club and a Thanksgiving canned food drive.

According to Leslie Cofield, "Alpha Kappa Alpha has over 100,000 women united by a bond of sisterhood and commitment to service for all mankind in which I am proud to be apart of this sorority."

Gamma Lambda's 1994-1995 officers are: Nessian Salmon, basileus; Lantoya Hobbs, anti-basileus; Tyke Crawford, grammateus; and Rhonda Johnson, tamiouchos. Letitia Rainey is Miss Alpha Kappa Alpha and Kya Lewis is Miss Gamma Lambda.

Keep Up
The Good Work Ladies!