Braves Lose 77-75 to Chesapeake showed the result of a long holiday layoff in the form of ragged play but almost pulled it off before Chesapeake rallied to nip the Braves, 77-75, Wednesday night, Jan. 12, in Chowan's gym. Chowan held a three point lead, 72-69, with 2:15 left in the game and appeared to be in command. But the Cougars took the lead with a minute to go, 76-74, setting the stage for a wild final 48

Action during this span began with Chester Neals at the foul line with two shots. He missed the first and the fans groaned. But he made the second and Chesapeake's lead was cut to one. With 43 seconds remaining, the Cougars called time out. When they brought the ball down the court, Chowan stole it and Michie fired one of his patented jumpers but missed. With only six seconds on the clock, Chowan again came up with the ball and called a time out.

Coach Bill McCraw's strategy was to get the ball to Michie and guard Harry Jackson did just that when play resumed. Michie, who scored 30 points to lead both teams, raced the length of the court and in the middle of heavy traffic fired on the run. The ball didn't come close and the buzzer

Former Student With Air Force

U.S. Air Force Staff Sergeant Ronald G. Harrison, son or Mr, and Mrs. Raymond Harrison of Rt. 2, Trenton, N.C., is on duty at Udorn Royal Thai AFB, Thailand.

Sergeant Harrison, an aircraft maintenance specialist, is assigned to a unit of the Pacific Air Forces, headquarters for air operations in Southeast Asia, the Far East and the Pacific area. Before his arrival in Thailand, he served at Shaw AFB, S.C.

The sergeant, a 1964 graduate of Jones Central High School, received his A.A. degree in 1966 from Chowan College.

Chowan's basketball team sounded to make Chowan's first decision of 1972 a losing one.

The game marked the first appearance for the Braves of 6-4 freshman, Rodd Polk of Titusville, Fla. and he almost gave Chowan victory. He entered at center with six minutes left and promptly scored two baskets and snatched two rebounds within a minute. But he also missed an easy shot under the basket as the hero's role eluded him. Still, it was a good performance and possibly surpassed the effort Chowan received from its two other centers, regular Norman Roles, who scored four points, and reserve Don Johnson, who chipped in five. Chowan jumped to an early lead then fell behind by five, 30-25, with 6:15 left in the half. Four free throws by Michie, who was 12 for 12 from the charity line, and a tipin by Chester Neals helped the Braves take the lead at the half, 40-38. With Mike Oliver making three baskets, Chowan roared to a 50-42 advantage after intermission but the cougars tied it at 59 with little over eight minutes left.

When Chowan slipped behind by three, Polk received the call from McCraw and his two baskets returned the lead to Chowan, 66-65. But they couldn't hold it and the result was Chowan's fifth loss against three they are 3-2. For Chowan, the game came close to the "must win" category. Mt. Olive had earlier stopped the Braves, 78-71, in their lone league encounter and a second loss this early in the season could have resulted in a severe tailspin. As it was, Chowan had its dark moments, blowing a nine-point lead, before rallying late in the

The Braves jumped to an early 3-0 lead. After five minutes, the spread was the same with Chowan leading 11-8. With 7:14 left. Chowan stretched its lead to nine points, 34-25. While the Braves were playing a steady game and receiving an outstanding performance from reserve Chester Neals, alternating at forward with Mike Oliver, the Bulldogs had trouble finding the range. On three shots by big James Epps, who ended with 24 points, the ball went in and out of the basket. For the most part, the Braves were allowing only one shot with Neals, forward Nat Wright and Oliver handling the rebounding.

A bit of strategy from Coach Bill McCraw also paid off handsomely for the Braves. He told center Norman Roles, at a height disadvantage, to slap the ball out instead of rebounding directly. On numerous occasions, he batted the ball to one of the guards, Randy Michie or John Spears, who sped down the court. Chowan's halftime lead, 50-41, was soon whittled down by the suddenly hot Bulldogs. Epps made four long arching jumpers in a row to help Kittrell tie it at 61 with 13:09 remaining. Another spurt gave the Bulldogs a six point lead but Chowan, refusing to buckle to the pressure, caught the Bulldogs at 81 with three minutes left. The two teams traded buckets with Michie missing a short one for the win

In overtime, Neals made a short jumper to put the Braves ahead to stay. Wright followed with a layup reaching up from It was the Braves' first over- behind the board and Michie time of the season and evened added a freethrow for a five point their Cavalier-Tarheel Con- lead. In their eagerness to ference record at 1-1, Overall overhaul the Braves, Kittrell ommitted errors and fouled Braves, a mistake against the league's leading team in foul line accuracy. Oliver made two free throws. Roles one and Michie three more, while Neals and Michie added layups to keep Chowan ahead.

Following the game, McCraw said the Braves' balanced attack was the key to the win. No player who scored for Chowan made less than 14 with six finishing in double figures. The range was from Oliver's 14 points to Wright's 22, 14 on charity tosses. The Braves hit 75 per cent of their freethrows. McCraw also praised Neals performance. "He came off the bench and played like a regular," McCraw noted. "He really was amazing." He ended with 15 points and the same number of rebounds to lead the Braves in that department.

The victory will give Chowan a boost against tall and talented Southwood, Chowan's opponent Thursday away, McCraw said. The high scoring Rams have defeated Mt. Olive 102-89 and College of the Albemarle 98-91. Kittrell defeated Southwood 95-

Against Kittrell, Chowan was a different ball club from the one that was beaten at home by Mt. Olive. The Braves kept passing and other errors to a minimum and utilized hussle and teamwork to overcome Kittrell. McCraw also showed he can go to his bench when necessary. Forward Ray Rawls, normally a starter, missed the game with an injury suffered in the Frederick Military Academy tournament but Neals picked up the slack. Chowan's next home game is Saturday against Frederick, which won its own tournament with the Braves winning the consolation game against COA. Chowan did not meet Frederick in the tournament.

As middle linebacker, his range was the entire field. Garrison said. Christian possessed an "extra sense," according to the Braves head mentor, which put him in the middle of the action, either making the tackle individually or assisting his teammates.

"He earned the respect of all of the other teams in the conference," said Garrison. "He's definitely a great one, he's the finest linebacker I've ever coached," noted Garrison, who came to Chowan in 1958. He has size, speed, football knowledge and leadership; in short, he has it all. He's the type of player who could play for any college, in the country.

While Christian lived up to this tribute throughout the season, he reserved his finest performances for the toughest opponents. Against Baltimore he made 15 tackles, broke up one pass and intercepted twice, returning one 48 yards for a score in the 14 tie. Against Potomac State he intercepted while making 12 tackles, the number he made against Lees-McRae and Wesley.

Christian's total absorption in his play was one of the major reasons the Braves' defense was one of the stingiest in the league limiting foes to an average of 74 yards rushing and 168 yards total offense.

Thanks to Christian's presence, Chowan's fans have learned that watching the defense can be as exciting as following the offense. His crushing tackles caused a stir of excitement across the stands as he slammed his six foot, 215pound frame into backs with a finality to suggest that it would be the runner's last run.

"He's a great player," observes Garrison,"Not only writes home enough. because of his scrength and aggressiveness but because he time all he had to worry about no weakness. He's an was KP!-Anniston (Ala.) Star.

in the mold of the best linebackers of the day." Not only does Christian have speed, his coach indicated, but an uncanny sense of determining where the ball will be which projects him into the thick of the action. Garrison named Christian's leadership as another valuable asset to the team. While not trying to usurp the coach's role. Christian would often, during a tight game, gather the other members of the defense about him to discuss strategy. His leadership and football savvy also won him the job of calling defensive signals both his fresh man and sophomore years.

Garrison admits he may have to wait another 14 years- or longer - for another player of Christian's caliber to come his way. "He has proven deserving of this all-American honor, Garrison noted.

Christian sele tri-captain at the end of the season, has already been signed by East Carolina.
