

President's Letter to Editor Cup Noted

By DERYL WALL

The President's Cup is awarded to the residence hall which accumulates the highest percentage of points from competing in the men and women intramural sports program.

Competition is being extended to include the following also: academic average, attendance at football games and cultural events, judiciary council actions; intramural participation and standing; and sponsoring social activities. These areas of competition begin at the start of the fall semester and end at mid-term of the spring semester, except intramural sports, which end the last of April.

The name of the winning residence hall is inscribed on the President's Cup trophy, which is a permanent trophy on display in Whitaker Library. The winning hall will be announced and awarded the President's Cup on Honors Day.

semester carried 19 hours with a 3.63 average, will benefit from the new project because she will know what the old building was and what the new one is in the fall of 1973. Miss Blanchard's aim is to be a dentist.

Professor Carl Simmons, who says the student will benefit a lot, but he, too, will benefit more from the new project, more than the student because he will be teaching the math courses. One freshman that will benefit from the project is Terry Kollman, who is a pre-engineering student.

Dear Editor,
Equality for all??

I really don't know how to start this because it shouldn't have to be said, but it is a shame that people in this day and age are still judging others by the color of their skin.

Much to my dismay, I, as a judge, at the Spring Festival Pageant, saw this happen. The Pageant had many beautiful girls in it, and I feel that some of them were not given a fair chance!

We, as students, come to college to learn how to get along with all people and to accept one another for what they are. It is sad that we have some adults here that have not learned to accept people for what they are as was shown Thursday night at the Pageant. The purpose of the Pageant was to select the girls with the most beauty, poise, talent, and best personality, yet I feel that some were not judged on this criteria, but on the color of their skin. I had hoped that this year's Pageant would be a great success, but due to the prejudice held by some of the judges, I feel that this Pageant ended in discord.

I only wish that there were some way to make it up to those who were so unjustly treated. This is my opinion, but I am sure that most of the students of this college feel the same with me. I hope that someday these silly prejudices can be dropped, and we can all accept each other for what we are and not for the physical appearance!
