

Sports Scene . . .

By DAVID GUTHRIE

After successful seasons in both football and basketball Chowan can also look forward to a prosperous season in baseball. The 1975 edition of the Braves promises to be a young and exciting team.

Coach Hawkins' squad returns only two starters from last year's team but there are many promising freshmen to supplement the supply of returnees.

Back from last year's team are right fielder Ben Howe and centerfielder Ray Davis. Other returning sophomores who saw playing time last year are outfielders Ken Anderson and Rob Sullivan and third baseman Paul Moran.

Freshmen, though will play the dominant role on this year's team. Infielders Buddy Newsome and Tony Bolton have shown a lot of ability at their respective positions while Mike Bass and Larry Smoot figure to battle for the starting position at catcher.

It is the strength of a team's pitching staff though that dictates whether a team wins or loses and it is here that the freshmen figure to play the most vital role. Bobby Bryan, Bob Meyer, Brian Phlegler, Jack Jones, James Humphries and Wade Walker give the Braves sufficient depth on the pitching staff. Coach Hawkins feels that this year's staff will be considerably stronger than the 1974 staff.

The Braves do have their work cut out for them if they figure to be conference contenders this season. Louisburg College, a four year school, returns eighteen players from their 1974 team. This past summer the Louisburg squad won the North Carolina Summer League. The League contains such teams as the University of North Carolina, East Carolina, Campbell, and the University of North Carolina at Wilmington.

Coach Hawkins feels that overall the conference is extremely strong with the only clear-cut favorite being Louisburg. The Braves schedule for 1975 is as follows:

Job Offers in Europe For College Students

If you are a college student looking for a job you may end up working in Europe. Any student between the ages of 17 and 27 can have a temporary job in Europe. Most openings are in hotels, resorts, offices and restaurants in Austria, Belgium, France, Germany, Spain and Switzerland. Positions are available to all college students who submit their applications by mail in time to allow for processing permits and working papers.

Working periods vary from 60 days to one year, but some students have stayed longer. As no previous experience or foreign language is required, the door is open to anyone within the age limits. Wages range from $250 to more than $450 a month, plus free room and board, leaving wages free and clear.

In addition to living new experiences, and seeing Europe while you can, working in Europe offers the chance to travel on a pay-as-you-go basis without really being tied down. At several reunions recently held by students who had worked in Europe, the most heard comment was, "The experience alone was worth it."

Jobs and working papers are provided on a non-profit basis, and brief orientations are given in Europe just prior to going to work. These packed sessions speed adjustment to Europe and make certain all goes well on the job.

Any student interested in a temporary job in Europe may write directly to Student Overseas Services, Box 5176, Santa Barbara, Calif. 93108. Requests for job listings and an application must include name, address and twenty-five cents or the equivalent in stamps.

Students Speak Out

By Hector J. Cuellar

Question: "How do you feel about the towns people in regards to cashing checks?"

Lisa Jorgensen: "I don't think it's fair because the bookstore never has enough money."

Marianne Wood: "Each employer is out for himself, but for students it's a hassle."

Bob Meyer: "A few bad checks from individuals ruin it for everybody else."

Steve Zarra: "When I do cash a check I don't have any trouble, because I'm one of the smart ones and have an account here in town. So there!"

Libby Kanipe: "It's pretty bad when some banks won't even cash checks."

Dale Revelle: "It's fair. They have to look after their own interest to make sure they don't pick up any bad checks."

Chowan Braves Defeat COA

Chowan College defeated College of the Albemarle 113-100 in Elizabeth City Monday night but did not wrap up fourth place in the Cavalier-Tarheel Conference as expected, according to Coach Bill McCraw.

McCraw has learned from league headquarters that Louisburg, earlier considered virtually eliminated from contention for the fourth spot with a 3-6 conference mark, has defeated Sandhills and Mt. Olive, the second place club, and needs only a victory in its final game at home Thursday against COA to tie Chowan at 6-6.

With the COA win, the Braves had expected to clinch fourth place and the home court advantage for the opening round of the conference tournament, to be played Wednesday, Feb. 26 at 7:30 p.m. If Louisburg beats COA as expected, Chowan will meet Louisburg with the home court to be decided by a coin flip. A Louisburg loss would place the Hurricanes in a tie with Sandhills at 5-7 with a flip to decide fifth place and Chowan's opponent for the opening game, which would be played on the Braves' court.

Against COA, forwards Thomas Gentry with 26 points and James Goffigan with 24 paced the Braves. COA led briefly, 10-8, before Chowan took command. Chowan led at the half, 55-42, and midway through the second half by 21 points before COA closed the gap to 11 with a minute left. McCraw said a major factor behind the victory was the Braves' control of the boards behind Gentry, Goffigan and guard Lonnie Payton, who added 19 points. Reserve guard John Roseboro turned in a fine performance with 14 points

Green Hall Student Center Now Open

Need a place to relax and unwind? The Student Center in Green Hall is now open.

A juke box, ping pong tables, foosball games as well as several lounges are available for your enjoyment. There are also plans for a color television in the near future.

The Student Center is presently open from 11:00 A.M. to 11:00 P.M. After the Spring Holidays, hours will be extended to 1:00 P.M.

Mr. Atkinson and the Security Office have moved to Green Hall and will be in charge of the Student Center.

Financial Aid

The objective of the Financial Aid office at Chowan College is to make it financially possible for students to attend college.

There are three items we wish to call to your attention:

- (1) Now is the time to file the Parents' Confidential Statement for next fall. You can get them in Mr. Collins' office.
- (2) Check with your work supervisor about the number of hours you can work. Do not work more hours than you are assigned as you will not be paid.
- (3) Reminder - Work-Study checks are to be picked up the tenth of each month.
