Game Highlights

The Braves, before an excited Homecoming crowd, defeated Potomac State, 25-0.

On a beautiful autumn afternoon in sun-drenched Garrison Stadium, Chowan used a strong "Great Spirit" defense and excellent special teams play to record the third shutout of the 1988 season. The "Great Spirit" held Potomac State to -5 yards rushing on thirty-five attempts, blocked a punt, and a field goal attempt, recovered two fumbles, one interception, had seven quarterback sacks, and allowed only a hundred and sixteen yards total of offense.

Not only did the defense shutout the Catamounts, but also scored twelve points and set up the offense for thirteen more points. Sophomore All-American candidate, George Koonce, got things started by sacking the Potomac State quarterback causing a fumble which tackle Andy Williams recovered. Quarterback Gary Campbell hit tight end Craig Thomas with a twenty-one yard scoring strike and a 7-0 lead.

In the second quarter, defensive end Tim Canada blocked a Catamount punt, picked up the ball and ran thirty yards for his first college touchdown. One minute later, cornerback Andra Smith intercepted a Potomac State aerial and raced thirty-six yards for the next Braves score and a 19-0 halftime lead.

In the second half, defensive end Mark Kenney recovered a fumbled punt return to set up Mike Brown's forty-four yard field goal. Brown added a forty-one yard field goal later in the third quarter to close out the scoring.

The Braves were lead by All-American candidate Koonce who had five solo tackles and eight assists, one sack and caused a fumble. End Barry Groff had six solo's and six assists, Roger Rivas strong safety added five solo tackles and five assists. Tim Canada, also recovered a blocked field goal attempt to go with his blocked punt.

Most Inspiring Teacher and Honor Student Day

On November 12, 1988 Chowan College is going to try something new. They have asked their returning Honor Students to pick an outstanding educator from their past to attend Most Inspiring Teacher and Honor Student Day. These teachers are to be honored for their remarkable contributions they passed on to the Honor Students.

Cornell University first came up with the idea of honoring outstanding teachers. They agreed that these outstanding teachers did not get the recognition they deserved. They decided to ask the students to pick the teacher they thought contributed the most to their studies. The honoring of teachers went very well, and soon spread to other schools.

A faculty member here at Chowan read an article about this honoring of exceptional teachers, and brought it to the attention of Dean Lewis. Dean Lewis, seeing how true the article was, that outstanding teachers are rarely recognized, came up with a very unique idea. He wanted Chowan College to have an Honors Day. So he went and talked with the Honor Students, and they both agreed that it was a good idea. The special day of honoring outstanding teachers was altered to fit the needs of Chowan College.

Though it has never been done at this college before Dean Lewis feels very confident that it will succeed. This is another step forward for Chowan College, and hopefully it will work out.

Mixon Fire Update

As the sophomores know Mixon Hall was set on fire February 19 of last year. Chowan College is presently charging one of the two students involved with disorderly conduct

The first charge was displaying conduct which was both offensive and annoying to others and also disruptive of the rights of others by the burning of Mixon Hall. The other charge was causing damage to property of Chowan College and personal property of the other students living there. The other student was charged with aiding and abetting the burning of Mixon Hall, property of Chowan College, and personal property of the other students.

On top of these charges both students were suspended from attending Chowan College for the rest of the 1988 Fall Semester, and the 1989 Spring Semester. They will not attend in the future until the College Judiciary has granted permission which must also be approved by the president of the college. They are also band from coming on Chowan College property unless prearranged permission is granted by one of the Deans.
