

Lions claw Braves at Homecoming

By Jack Goldberg

The Lions of Nassau Community College roared into Garrison Stadium Saturday afternoon scoring in all four quarters to post a 41-14 victory. By virtue of their victory, Nassau's 8-0 overall and 4-0 record in league play clinched the Coastal Conference Championship.

Before a capacity Homecoming audience Chowan received the opening kickoff but was unable to generate any offense. The tone for the afternoon was set as Nassau, receiving the punt at their 47-yard line, took only four plays to cover 53 yards to take an early 7-0 lead in a game in which they would never trail. The Braves, hurt by turnovers all day, had their chances early in the first half. Chowan found themselves deep in Lions' territory twice via a fumble recovery by Jose Ortiz (Green Acres, FL) and the first of two interceptions by Raymond Council (Portsmouth, VA). Nassau's defense stiffened both times as the Braves missed a field goal from 24 yards and had a pass intercepted at the Lions' 34-yard line.

The Braves homecoming crowd had something to holler about when Eric Bates (Fredricksburg, VA) broke off one of his patented open field runs scorching the Lions for a 45 yard touchdown run. Bates for the day, carried eight times for 63 yards to lead the Braves. A high snap from center left the Braves trailing 21-6 as the horn sounded ending the first half.

The second half saw the Braves able to move the ball as they accumulated 297 total yards for the game. Chowan's final score was via the bomb. Jimmy Shropshire (Lancaster, SC), who was constantly harassed all day, faced a third and 40 at his own 30-yard line. Shropshire found Darryl Boulware (Columbia, SC) for 70 yards and the Braves' second touchdown. Shropshire hit Boulware in the corner of the end zone for the two point conversion, Chowan's final points of the afternoon.

Sophomore quarterback Shropshire finished the day by completing 9 of 20 passes for 113 yards, suffering two interceptions, and completing one touchdown pass. Boulware had an excellent day, hauling in four passes for 97 yards and one touchdown. Anthony VanDyke (Smithfield, VA) led the Braves, defensively collecting ten tackles. Raymond Council joined the nation's leaders in interceptions, bringing his total to six and tying fellow cornerback and All-American candidate Steve Smith for team honors.

Land of the Free, Home of the Braveburger

Alpha Beta Gamma is a national business honor society for students enrolled in a business curriculum in two-year colleges. The society provides an opportunity for the development of leadership and service, an intellectual climate for the exchange of ideas, fellowship, and stimulation of interest in continuing academic excellence. To be eligible for membership in the organization, a student must have completed at least 15 credit hours with a 3.0 QPA in business courses, as well as 3.0 overall average.

LETTERS to the Editor

Dear Editor,

When I go to football games, as I do from time to time, I am embarrassed by that odd looking creature which I assume is our mascot. If I were a native American I would be insulted by that caricature of a human being that is supposed to resemble a "Brave."

If we are trying to honor our Benefactors let it be something closer to reality and more in keeping with their true image, please.

Yours truly,
Dr. John W. Gosnell

Dear Editor,

I spoke at Chowan College recently, and since that time I have talked about the Chowan students to anyone who would listen to me. I was tremendously impressed by the energy and warmth of the students who attended both the afternoon and evening readings. Prior to coming to Murfreesboro, I had spoken to a large undergraduate audience and the noise and squirming, the overall rudeness of these students, convinced me to stop speaking at colleges. Then I went to Chowan, and the students looked alive, eager to hear what a girl from Nash County had to say.

Your teachers, especially Dorothy Hill, are to be commended for encouraging all of you to tune in. Dorothy awakened a great many folks during her time at Chapel Hill, and we miss her. You all are lucky to have her.

Thanks for encouraging me, for asking questions that matter, and for thinking about and expressing ideas that matter to you and me.

Sincerely,
Kaye Gibbons

Students Urged to Use New Form

Students are encouraged to use forms like the one shown below as a means of leaving a permanent record of honors and scholarships received and involvement in residence life, clubs and organizations and intramural athletics. Students are to complete such a form at the end of each semester. Some students who elect not to complete and submit the form will not have such information in their permanent files in the Office of the Registrar.

"Such information will be of importance in years to come when students are preparing to enter the world of work," said Dean of Students, Clayton Lewis. He continued, "Employers are interested in how students enhance their personal growth and development through out-of-class activities."

"All information given on the form must be confirmed by the responsible faculty/staff member," said Dean Lewis. "Information which is not confirmed will not be entered into one's permanent file," concluded Dean Lewis.

Forms will be made available to residential students each semester by their Residence Directors and Resident Assistants. Commuting students will receive such forms through the college post office.

Completed forms are to be submitted to the Dean of Students.

Dear Zoey,

I am a freshman in college and I have a problem that may seem silly to most people, but it really bothers me. It is very hard for me to get up in front of a group and make a speech. I am tired of having all of the hard work that I put in to my classes go down the drain because I am terrified of opening my mouth in class.

Silly Speaker

Dear Speaker,

I am sorry to hear that your grades are in jeopardy because you have a fear of speaking in a large crowd. However, I do not think that this inability will have as great an impact on your grades as you seem to believe. I am very familiar with the feelings you are experiencing and I am sure many others are as well. Most persons "clam up" and become tense when in the spotlight—that is only normal. I am sure that with a few helpful hints and some practice, you will be more at ease. Here are some clues for confidence: 1) look over the room before you speak, 2) be rested, 3) take deep breaths before you speak, and 4) look at someone who may give you encouragement. Good luck!!!

Zoey

Dear Zoey,

I'm nineteen years old and have been dating men that are much older than I for many years—ever since high school. A lot of my friends think that I'm wierd for going out with guys that are so much older than me, but the worst part of it all is that guys my age don't even look at me—much less want to be friends with me.

What should I do? I want to have more friends my age even though I don't prefer to date males the same age as myself.

Too "Old"

Dear Old,

I think that the problem here is that males your age feel threatened by you and may even be too shy to approach you. You should start to open up more to the guys you want to be friends with. You will most likely find that if you make the first move you will suddenly have many more friends than you could have anticipated. I would also recommend the same advice for friendships with girls. They may think you are a snob, but if they get to know you, a different light may be shed.

Zoey
