

PLANS REVEALED FOR FESTIVAL THEATRE

This summer Festival Theatre Inc., a professional affiliate of N.C.S.A. is instituting a six-week arts festival. In announcing plans for the North Carolina Summer Festival executive producer Martin Sokoloff stated: "It is our hope that this project will become one of the major regional summer festivals in the country. We plan to draw our audiences from the major centers of North Carolina and expect that a large number of tourists traveling in the state will be attracted to the Summer Festival offerings. "General artistic director for the Festival is Robert Ward.

North Carolina Summer Festival opens June 27 with a production of "My Fair Lady," which is one of the four musicals to be produced. The other three are "1776", "The Merry Widow," and "Man of La Mancha." All choreography will be the work of Duncan Noble, plus he will direct "The Merry Widow." The other three musicals will be directed by Bill Dryer. Production coordinator will be John Sneden and all musicals will be conducted by Norman Johnson. The productions will be held at Reynolds Auditorium.

Some casting for these musicals has already been decided, but there are still some openings. Any interested student is advised to go by room 306 in the main building for further information. Also there are a limited number of jobs available as ushers, ticket takers, and the like. Those interested should also visit 306.

Two orchestra concerts are scheduled for the Summer Festival. These concerts will include appearances of two internationally renowned artists. On July 13 Janos Starker, who is regarded by many as the world's foremost 'cellist, will be the featured soloist with the orchestra. Violinist Erich Freidman will be the featured soloist for a concert July 20. The concerts will be held in the (hopefully by then) newly renovated and air-conditioned N.C.S.A. auditorium. Plans are also in the making for three chamber music recitals.

A chamber dance concert is planned but details on that are not available at this time.

The Festival will also include a film series and art exhibits. Classic, foreign, and modern films will be shown in the N.C.S.A. auditorium on a total of twenty evenings throughout the six-week session. Art exhibits are to be shown in the various Winston-Salem galleries.

Admission will be charged to the public for all Festival events. For those working with the Festival admission to all events is free.

The board of directors for the North Carolina Summer Festival includes N.C.S.A. administrators and other Winston-Salem residents. The board is: Robert Ward, Martin Sokoloff, Samuel M. Stone, Lewis Hawley, Bobby L. Newton, R.B. Crawford, Jr., Mrs. Joseph B. Dudley, Mrs. Paul Montague, Jr., Mrs. Gordon Hanes, Weston P. Hatfield, Mrs. George Little, Mrs. Robert Sosnick, Mrs. Randall B. Terry, Jr., Mrs. Warren West, and Joseph King.

Students Speak Out On Dorm Life

"There needs to be a closer, friendlier, feeling between the people who run the dorms and the people who live in them. People should start doing something instead of just complaining about the things they don't like." - Ruth Hart

"Actually they're not too bad- I don't live in them anymore." - Stu Nudelman

"Who is Stu Nudelman?" - D. Wilson

"I think as little as possible about them- I just use my room to hide and sleep in." - Craig Eubanks

"Living in these dorms is an experience. They are far too liberal. However they are nice dorms and are pleasant to live in. Occasionally they are too noisy and the maintenance service is lousy. So is the heating." - Brian Cummings

"I agree completely with that nudelman character- the dorms are not too bad- I am moving out tomorrow." - Karl Kutlas

"In the High School dorms if you leave the other people alone it's just fine." - Jeff Abbott

"Because of the new policies concerning noise, — the dorm seems to be much better. But I think the problem of noise could be solved if each individual would accept the responsibility to consider the other people living in the dorm." - Murray Kaufman, R.A., Moore Dorm

"It's alright, a little cold sometimes. It's a cold place to live." - David Winslow

"1st floor of D Dorm is great. Techies and musicians and we get along beautifully." - Walter Braxton

"I like living in the dorm. I don't usually get any work done at home and here, I don't have the hassles involved in renting an off campus apartment; cooking, maintenance etc." - Mike Bernard

"I dig the people side of living here, but I could really get into temperature control." - Roberta Washington

"It's a nice place to visit but I wouldn't like to live there." - Kim Longacre

"If you like living in a cage it's great. Probably the rooms on Devils Island are bigger- at least they give you towel racks which you won't find in the college dorms. The only humidity you get in the winter is through the cracks when it snows. Thank God for modern technology." - Mike Shindleman

"College Dorm life is great — sometimes." - Peter Girvin
