

Methodist College Welcomes Joseph Doll As New Director

Doll takes business school.

Methodist College welcomes Mr. Joseph F. Doll, Jr. as the new director of the Charles M. Reeves School of Business. Mr. Doll, who holds an M.B.A. from American University, succeeds Dr. Mike Marr, who will return to full-time teaching as a professor of business administration.

Mr. Doll comes to Methodist from Washington, D.C., where he was an entrepreneur and business executive, with more than 20 years experience in health care management and marketing. Mr. Doll founded two health care firms in Maryland, which operated skilled nursing facilities for the elderly.

Dr. Erik Bitterbaum, vice president for academic affairs at Methodist, said Mr. Doll's responsibilities will include serving as a liaison between the college and the local business community, assisting in setting up internships for business students, as well as teaching two classes in business management. "He will also direct efforts toward accreditation of our business school by the Association of Collegiate Business Schools and Programs," said Dr. Bitterbaum.

Mr. Doll said his primary goal as director is to be a part of and direct a program that will be known for its excellence and quality. "Fayetteville is a growth market where I will be doing a lot of networking," he said. Mr. Doll said he has no preconceived agenda for the Reeves School, but added, "Any business school today has to address the issue of productivity and how to be more competitive internationally."

Methodist Enrolls Record Number Of Students

Dorm students check in.

Methodist College began its 33rd academic year by enrolling a record 1,072 students in its regular day program. The new total breaks the college's previous record of 1,069, set in the fall of 1967.

Another 365 students enrolled in the evening program at Methodist, producing a total enrollment of 1,437, up 4.6 percent over last fall's 1,373. Evening enrollment was down seven percent from last fall's 391.

Residential enrollment—the number of students living in the four residence halls—totaled 548. This is the largest number since the fall of 1968 and represents a 13.6 percent gain over last fall's 482.

"Methodist College continues to grow both in size, reputation and national visibility," said Dr. M. Elton Hendricks, college president. "It is a pleasure to have so many new, wonderful students with whom to work. I am proud of the entire staff at Methodist College whose creative efforts and hard work made our progress possible.:"

Methodist also enrolled 510 NEW students—302 freshmen and 208 transfers. The Admissions Office reports that 292 of the new students are living on campus and 218 are commuters.

The new students represent 33 different states and eight foreign countries. Sixty-six percent (335) of the new students are from North Carolina and 46 percent (235) are from Cumberland County.

Courtesy of: Methodist College News Bureau

Margaret Folsom Receives Teaching Excellence Award

Methodist College recently named Dr. Margaret Folsom, professor of biology and director of the Division of Science and Mathematics, Professor of the Year.

Dr. Folsom was nominated by both faculty and students. She is known across campus for her wit and expertise. She has taught at least 10 different science courses at Methodist and has won numerous grants for the Science Department in recent years.

Folsom Wins Award

Weaver Named Miss Methodist

Kimberly Ruth Weaver, a junior music education major from Fayetteville, was crowned Miss Methodist College April 23.

Miss Weaver is the daughter of Ray and Helen Weaver of Fayetteville. She was chosen from a field of 11 contestants in the 1992 Miss Methodist College Pageant. Contestants were judged in four categories — interviews, sportswear, casual wear, and semi-formal wear.

Kim is a graduate of Westover High School. She is a cheerleader and a member of the dance team at Methodist College. She does volunteer work at a local rest home.

Dana Caulder was named First Runner-up. The daughter of Ernest and Claudine Caulder, she is a senior business major from Fayetteville. She is a graduate of Seventy-First High School.

Miss Methodist 1992

Wendy Fulcher was named Second Runner-up. The daughter of Louis and Sharon Fulcher, she is a freshman political science major from Fayetteville. She is a graduate of Cape Fear High School.

INSIDE...

Page 2

Is There Really A Co-ed Dorm

Page 3

Community Bulletin Board

Pages 4-5

Lion in Winter