Wilson Addresses Summer Grads.

History Professor Addresses Summer Graduates

Methodist College's final summer commencement August 30, was addressed by senior faculty member R. Parker Wilson, who challenged 34 graduates to build upon their liberal arts foundation to live positive lives.

Mr. Wilson told the graduates that their diplomas represent the faculty's best efforts to give them a liberal arts foundation for a lifetime of learning. The history professor described several former faculty members he had known during his 30 years at Methodist and quoted from a popular song recorded by the late Bing Crosby: "Accentuate the positive. Eliminate the negative. Latch on to the affirmative. Don't mess with Mr. In-Between."

Later Mr. Wilson brought the house down with a quip he often tosses to new graduates, as they file through a cordon of faculty and staff following commencement. "Go forth and multiply," he said. "Send your children (money) and maybe I'll still be here."

Four students were graduated with honors during Methodist's 19th and final summer commencement. In the future, the college will hold commencement exercises in May and December only.

Students Called To Attention

Have you ever wondered about those students in Army uniforms walking around on campus? They belong to Monarch Company of Campbell Battalion. Monarch Company includes Fayetteville State University and Methodist College cadets. Campbell Battalion presides over Monarch Company, as well as presiding over two other companies, Brave Company (Pembroke State University) and Camel Company (Campbell University). Cadets spend four years learning about the Army and mastering leadership skills. The summer following their Junior year, cadets are tested at Advanced Camp. Camp was held this year at Fort Bragg.

Campbell Battalion won four out of five possible institutional awards at Advanced Camp this year. Five of the six Methodist College cadets who completed Camp All American won leadership award; and three of eight regimental awards went to Campbell Battalion cadets. The ROTC Fall Awards ceremony will be held October 1, 1992, at 4:00 p.m. at Campbell University. Come out and support the students who make your ROTC Program.

This year, ROTC cadets have hit the ground running. Already they have raised $1500.00 at a fund-raising event, formally welcomed new veterans into the Program, and rappelled at Fort Bragg, allowing new Cadets to qualify for Raiders, an ROTC extra-curricular club.

Raiders welcomes students from FSU and MC to join them in their activities. Events include rappelling, obstacle courses, challenging marches, etc. Raiders is also open to new ideas, so, if you have had an experience you would like to share, give them a call. Leadership classes are held weekly. For more information, call Cadet Martine Lowry at (919) 630-7068.
