

Homecoming 1992 Promises To Be "Unforgettable"

by: jeannie denman

As part of the Homecoming Festivities, campus clubs and organizations nominated men and women for the Homecoming King and Queen contest. Some of the nominations were as follows: SAC--Scott Stoker and Sharon Revels; Sanford Dorm--Brian Ravenele and Laura Steele; Cumberland Dorm--Ed McEnroe and Karen Rafferty; Cheerleaders--Leroy McCollough and Nanette Regan; MSA--Janelle Ushery and Simone Young; SGA--Tracy Maness and Derrick Johnson, Alpha Psi Omega--Amy Currie, Baseball--Joe Myrtle, SEA--Mark Morris and Terrah Nanney, Volleyball--Jill Sturtenfeldt, Women's Golf--Bill Anderson, Men's Tennis--Jom Maze, and Women's Tennis--Heather Hyslop.

Voting took place Wednesday-Friday, October 14-16, in the Student Union.

The Homecoming Court will be introduced at the Homecoming Football Game on Saturday, October 17, 1992; the King and Queen will be announced at the dance in the Student Union later that evening.

FOR A COMPLETE HOMECOMING SCHEDULE... SEE PAGE 5

Playmakers Present...

"The Mouse That Roared"

by Sarah Shew

Methodist College's Monarch Playmakers will present the political comedy "The Mouse that Roared" on October 22nd-the 25th in Reeves Auditorium. The play stars seniors Amy Currie and Christopher Laning and is directed by Dr. Anthony DeLapa.

"The Mouse that Roared" is a comedy adapted by Christopher Sergel from the book by Leonard Wibberly about a small island country that decides to declare war on the United States with the hope of losing and receiving aid from the U. S. government.

The Monarch Playmakers will present many more plays this year, both dramas and comedies. They invite everyone interested to audition and to get involved in the productions.

Quayle Visit Not to Be

Quayle Visit Smashed

Rumors that President Dan Quayle would be visiting the Methodist campus on Friday, October 16th, generated a flurry of activity Tuesday as administrators, faculty, staff, and students began to make preparations for the Vice President's appearance on a weekend already crowded with Homecoming events. According to college president Dr. Hendricks, an advance person for the Vice President had scouted the campus on Monday and by early Tuesday it looked 98% certain that the vice president would visit the campus and speak at the Riddle Center. But it was not to be. The Vice President apparently changed his mind, a decision that was greeted with mixed reactions from the campus community. Some faculty and administrators expressed disappointment, others expressed relief. "He abandoned his natural constituency," said one faculty member who chose to remain anonymous. "But I wasn't about to vote Republican anyway."

Did Someone Yell Fire?

by Martine S. Lowry

On the morning of September 29th, a fire broke out in the fieldhouse adjacent to the football field. There was a coach's meeting in progress and they were the first to notice smoke coming from the locker room.

Initially, the source of the fire was not known, but the amount of smoke led witnesses to believe that there was potential for a serious problem. As a result, the fire department was called to handle the "blaze", which was traced to a clothes dryer being used to dry athletic socks. Apparently, the drier simply over-heated and set the socks on fire. Firefighters sporting gas-masks and their high-temperature gear raked the burnt bundle of socks into a pile and sprayed them with a hose.

Except for the damaged dryer and scorched socks there were no other damages reported.

The smokey "aroma" alerted coaches

Gas masked fireman salvage socks

INSIDE...

Editorials...2

Sports...4 & 5

Interim ....8

Campus News...3

Homecoming ...5