

Monarch Moments

by John "Plebe" Glosson

Dr. Kline Goes Bye-Bye

Professor of business administration and economics, Dr. Donald Kline will be leaving Methodist after six years. In order for all of the faculty and staff to bid farewell, there will be a small shindig in the faculty lounge on May 6, 1:00 p.m., 1994, A.D., R.S.V.P., B.Y.O.B., O.K.?

Mrs. McCullen Goes Bye-Bye, Too

Mrs. Peggy McCullen will be saying goodbye to Methodist as well. Mrs. McCullen has been here since 1963 when she ran up an extensive library fine. She has been working off her debt for 31 years and will finally pay it off at the end of the semester.

A Gergy Aquarium?

The Cucumber Oreo Fingers will present a gergy aquarium by Johnny Bramah? No . . . wait. The Timberland Embryo Flingers . . . No . . . that's not it. Ahah!

The Cumberland Oratorio Singers will present a German Requiem by Johannes Brahms in Reeves Auditorium on Sunday, May 8, at 2:00 p.m. Alan Porter will be conducting, Jacquelyn Culpepper will sing soprano, and Anthony Deacon, baritone.

Bloodworth Betrothed

Our very own Mr. Robert Bloodworth will be wed on May 29. In recognition of this blessed awangement, everyone who sees him in the hall is encouraged to say "Missterrr Blooodwoorrth! Geeetinn' hiiiitchee? Cooooool!" Please practice this and be ready to say it when you see him.

Show You Care Day

Do you? Did you? Have you ever? You should. I don't. But some did on April 30. Check out the Sink at Spring Fling.

Methodist College, Fayetteville, NC 28311

Volume XXXI

Issue 6

May 1994

In This Issue:

- *Athletic Scholars
- *Spring at Methodist
- *Cheerleaders Take Third
- *Kurt Cobain's Demise
- *Staff's Final Comments
- *Dan's Last Words
- *Awards Day
- *Graduation

Dr. Anthony DeLapa
1994 Teacher of the Year

Awards Day

On April 29, the 1994 Awards Convocation recognized student achievements with money, plaques, certificates, and words.

From Alpha Chi to Who's Who Among American College Students, athletic scholars to artists, recipients were honored for various accomplishments.

One award was accidentally given twice, first by Dr. John Sill and then Mr. Darl Champion. And Dr. Tony DeLapa was honored as Professor of the Year.

danet.

(See EXPOSED, p. 12)

Methodist to Field Major Soccer Complex

by Lee Burrows and Sherrie James

The Methodist College campus will be the home of a new major soccer complex. A non-profit corporation which has leased approximately thirty acres of the campus will independently run the complex.

Mirroring similar complexes in Greensboro and Charlotte, the complex will include eight fields with two levels of paved parking.

"From a soccer standpoint, this community complex will put Fayetteville on the soccer map," said Alan Dawson, Methodist's men's soccer coach. "Not only will it provide quality fields for our local players, but it will also establish our reputation in soccer regionally and nationally. Economy and exposurewise, it will positively affect our Fayetteville area."

According to President Elton Hendricks, "It will benefit the students by increasing visibility of the college. Also, it is a way we can provide a service to the Fayetteville community which supports the college."

The fields will be used by local Fayetteville youth soccer leagues and high school soccer teams. The complex will also be used for soccer tournaments and summer soccer camps that could be run by Methodist men's and women's soccer players and coaches. The college dorms and cafeteria may eventually be used for summer soccer tournaments.

The Methodist College soccer teams, however, will reportedly not be allowed to use the fields for their practices and games. This, along with the lack of public disclosure surrounding those that are to run the complex, has caused some people concern over the impending project.

According to a memo issued by Hendricks, the complex was suggested by a "friend of Methodist College" who said that "he and others would contribute the necessary funds." The complex will not be operated by Methodist College but by an as yet anonymous "not-for-profit corporation established for the purpose of constructing and operating the soccer facility."

The complex will allegedly be built at no cost to the school, with the land being leased to the non-profit corporation for a reported twenty years. Construction will supposedly begin this summer.

It's Graduation

Free At Last!

by Jim Mahan

On May 22 approximately 140 Methodist College seniors will participate in an academic rite of passage. The senior class, comprised of students from around the world, will bring their sojourn at Methodist to an end and either enter the realities of the business world or continue on to graduate school.

See p. 9.