Delta Sigma Theta

Early in October, the Gamma Rho Chapter of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc. began another dynamic year of public activity and service at Saint Augustine's College. The October fourth Oriental Tea was uniquely planned to introduce freshmen and new students to the activities of the nineteen active members. This gala event proved to be a great success in orienting the girls into the Saint Augustine's community of college women. It pledged to seek the attainment of scholarship, leadership, and service in initiating the goals of the sorority.

Delta is also proud to announce the bond of fourteen Pyramids, who seek membership in her sisterhood. These girls joined Delta Sorors in promoting the Delta 5-Point project. In this respect, Delta maintains and supports an interest and service in the areas of international projects, job opportunities, libraries, mental health, and volunteers for community service. Some of Delta's functions are good will to foreign nations and peoples by aiding underprivileged and underdeveloped areas, aiding in the preparatorial skills and advancement of Negroes in the maintenance of their role effectively in the present and future society, aiding library services and contributing to the progress of mental health.

The calendar of Gamma Rho Chapter for the 1964-65 year includes all of these areas of public service. Much of the success of these projects is anticipated by the union of the Delta women, pledged to maintain the highest ideals of womanhood as they execute the moral and scholastic ideas of esteemed prosperity.

A Fashion Show and Dance combined will be sponsored for U. N. C. F. benefit, November 6, 1964. Another social hour of entertainment will be scheduled for freshmen and new students. We do hope and trust that you will enjoy your stay and prosper in proportion while here as fellow Falcons.

Beta Xi Chapter begins the school year 15 strong, and looking forward to a most prosperous year. Our challenge is a contemporary one, which bids us to move with the speed of rockets, to catch up and keep up with the vast and fast moving forces of our changing society. In meeting this challenge there is a well established pattern of books first, punching, sports, etc. Second, in order to promote a well-rounded life, the Fraternity upholds the following principles: BROTHERHOOD, SCHOLARSHIP AND SERVICE; CULTURE FOR SERVICE AND SERVICE FOR HUMANITY; BIGGER AND BETTER BUSINESS, SOCIAL ACTION AND EDUCATION.

Our football team has started out the year in a nice way by defeating Morris College, 18-0 and Livingston College 16-0 and will probably end up the season as being undefeated and "unscored upon." Let's keep that old school spirit alive and kicking, Okay?

Upper classmen we haven't forgotten you, WELCOME BACK.

Kappa Alpha Psi

Brother James Mable spent a small portion of the summer working as clerk and delivery man. The rest of the summer was spent traveling to the more popular vacationing cities of the north. In Atlantic City, he visited the Club Harlem; the Cocoa Club of Baltimore, Maryland; the Palm Club of New York; and other places which completed an enjoyable summer.

Brother Noah Thorpe says that he had a rather hard working, but enjoyable summer. While working at Allied Chemical Company in Wilmington, Delaware; his spare time was spent traveling and enjoying numerous social functions.

Brother Tommy Hargrove stated that his summer was spent on campus. He attended summer school after which he got a job on campus which lasted until September 18. He also stated that he had a pleasurable time with so many beautiful subjects wondering around on campus.

Brother James Perry encountered a working summer in New York City. He held a position with the Coca Cola Bottling Company. His social life revolved around the Kappa Kastle.

Brother Rufus Harte spent the summer exploring the many experiences found in the "Little, Big City" called Brooksville, Florida. The necessity of traveling expenses brought about the cause for working a few weeks.

Brother Edward Chester, being a strong believer in the slogan, "work is the yeast that raises dough," worked at Campbell's Soup Company in Camden, New Jersey. Being among many friends, his social life was a full one. It included trips to the New York World's Fair, Atlantic City, Newark, Wildwood, and Camden, New Jersey and the Kappa Kastle in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

Now we have returned to Saint Augustine's College for a prosperous academic year, and approximately twenty scrollers are to be made members of our Fraternity, if they can make it!

Lyceum News

By MARY BRINSON

The first program of the Lyceum series featured the World of Cilli Wang, a petite one-woman cast of classical ballets and modern dances.

Miss Wang, a Viennese by birth and a Dutch by adoption, was a mechanic who rivaled the designers of spacecraft. She has carried on tours nearly 500 pounds of equipment which she has designed herself.

The artist has been trained extensively in classical ballet and the more modern schools of dance at the Vienna Music Academy.

Her debut in ballet was made at the age of 15 at the Vienna Opera. After finishing her studies at the Academy, she was attracted to the stage and followed lessons in acting and speaking. She has performed in many areas of the world, including the East and West Indies, Australia, South America, Israel, and this continent.

The Year Ahead

Under the supervision of Father Smith, our College Chaplain, the Canterbury Society has launched upon what is to be a remarkable year.

Combining both the spiritual and the social aspects of life the Canterbury Society has planned for the enjoyment of the entire student body: "Can-Can Dance" to be held November 20, in Taylor Hall; assembly program to be held March 7, and periodical films to be shown in the Penick Hall of Science.

Membership into the Canterbury Society is based on this sole criteria: The student must be attending Saint Augustine's College. This semester the Society is made up of many freshmen and new students. An invitation is hereby extended to other students to become affiliated with this organization.

Meetings are held every other Sunday at 6:30 P.M. in the Saint Agnes Building. YOU are invited.

The Big Sister Club

By GLADYS GRAY

The 1964 Senior Class girls have organized the Big Sister Club for the 1964-65 academic year. Janet Birchette was chosen President of the organization. It has been a tradition to have the Big Sister Club through history of Saint Augustine's College.

The purposes of the club are to bring forth a better relationship of the freshmen girls with the senior girls and, to acquaint them with Saint Augustine's campus, customs, and traditions. The freshmen girls should feel free to come to seek advice from the Big Sisters. Welcome to all freshmen, new, and transferred students.
