

ORIENTATION AT ST. AUGUSTINE'S

The major purpose of our orientation course is to provide for the general adjustment of the freshmen and other new students to life at St. Augustine's College. The means of effecting this adjustment is through a series of lectures covering different phases of college life, and continuing throughout the first semester.

The topics included are: Study—Its Technique Facilities; History and Traditions of St. Augustine's College; Social Activities, Health, and Religion. It is intended that each lecture or group of lectures shall acquaint the new students, among other things, with the major purpose and function of each phase of campus life, so that each student may derive the fullest benefit from participation in such life.

The uniqueness of this course at St. Augustine's lies in its credit value and in being continued throughout the semester. Usually such adjustment of freshmen is attempted during the first week of school. However, it would seem that gradual adjustment should be more effective.

Because of its guidance nature the course has a credit value of one hour in Education. —P. YOUNG.

ST. AGNES HOSPITAL

(Continued from Page One)

Miss Marjorie Anthony, '36, is at the Community Hospital, Newark, N. J., and Miss Mamie Flanagan, '38, is operating room supervisor at the Good Samaritan Hospital in Charlotte, N. C. Miss Mabel Harris, '36, is on the staff of the Riverside Hospital in New York City.

Miss Josephine Thomas, our dietitian, spent the past summer doing graduate work at Columbia University.

Mrs. Frances A. Worrall, superintendent of St. Agnes Hospital, was recently awarded by the United States Health Service a Certificate of Co-operative Merit for work done by the Children's Clinic. The Clinic was sponsored by Miss W. Lucille Zimmerman, who is being highly commended for the excellent service rendered the community, which reflects credit on the Hospital of whose staff she is a member.

Mrs. Worrall and Sister Anna Mary, the matron, are spending the month of November on a Caribbean cruise. We hope they will return refreshed by the vacation.

AGNESS B. MIDDLETON,
Director, Training School.

Ruth Boyer, '36, is in charge of the Raleigh bureau of the Norfolk Journal and Guide.

The Record urges graduates to send in news about themselves or other graduates. The next issue should go to press about January 15.

Dr. Edward Bowden, '02, represented St. Augustine's College at the funeral services for Dr. Henry A. Hunt, held at the Fort Valley School, October 5.

Frances Organ, '37, has secured a teaching position at Berkely High School, Aberdeen, N. C. Doris Telfair, '34, is a member of the faculty of Williston High School, Wilmington, N. C. Susie Morten, of the same class, is on the staff of the Institute for the Deaf, Dumb, and Blind, in Raleigh.

ALUMNI NEWS

(Continued from Page Two)

Of the graduates of the class of 1938 the RECORD has received the following reports:

St. Julian A. Simpkins is a student in the Bishop Payne Divinity School. Dorothy Bullock is in the graduate school of the University of Pittsburgh. Agness B. Middleton is director of the Training School for Nurses of St. Agnes Hospital. Susie Williams is in the School of Library Science at Hampton Institute. Edna Slade is a student at the Bishop Tuttle School. Henry Hall is on the staff of the Superintendent of Buildings and Grounds, St. Augustine's. Catherine King is teaching in the high school, Beaufort, N. C. Christie Wiley has a teaching position in Grantville, Ga. Demetra Durham is teaching in Millettville, S. C., and Theresa Everette in Littleton, N. C.

Of recent graduates before 1938, several have been placed or have changed positions within the past few months.

Almira J. Kennedy, '35, is a member of the staff and faculty of St. Augustine's, and Vera M. Gang, of the same class, is on the faculty of the Bishop Tuttle School. Lawrence Jackson, '37, has joined the staff of St. Paul School, Lawrenceville, Va.

James Garris, '37, is a high school teacher in Roxboro, N. C., and Rozia Singletary, another 1937 graduate, is teaching at Chadbourn, N. C. Russell Blunt, '36, is assistant coach and assistant to the dean of men at Southern University, Scotlandville, La. Effie I. Herritage, '33, has accepted a position at Atkins High School, Winston-Salem, N. C.

Aurven C. DeBerry, '37, and David P. Lane, '35, are enrolled in the dental school of Howard University. John L. Perry, '36, is teacher of science in Highland High School, Gastonia, N. C. Milton Armistead, '33, is a member of the faculty of Parmelee Training School, Martin County, N. C. John A. Woods, '37, is recreation supervisor in Warrenton, N. C.

W. Howard Henderson, '34, who received the M.D. degree from Meharry Medical College in May, is an interne in Mercy Hospital, Philadelphia, Pa. John W. Herritage, '33, another Meharry graduate of 1938, was appointed to an internship in the City Hospital of St. Louis, Mo.

Joseph Henry, '36, is in the graduate school of New York University, and Joseph Mask, '37, is doing graduate study at Boston University.

Dr. Edson E. Blackman, '13, president of the Alumni Association, sent a telegram of greeting, also expressing his regret that he could not be present at the formal opening on September 22.

CAMPUS NOTES

(Continued from Page Three)

students, graduates of her junior college. A graduate of St. Augustine's, The Rev. Lloyd M. Alexander, '33, and one of the Bishop Tuttle School alumnae, Mrs. Roberta Lassiter Brown, '33, are at present members of the staff of the Fort Valley School.