

Editorials

Newspaper States Policy

A new year begins, and the presses roll, and out comes the first issue of the Wesleyan newspaper.

What is this paper beyond four pages of newsprint and ink? It is the voice of you, the student body, as it attempts to record the todays and tomorrows of the next nine months.

We state our policy:

With honesty and accuracy cover the news.

Entertain vigorous, constructive ideas.

Seek always the truth.

Let the paper be the mouthpiece of the students and faculty.

Energetically separate the worthwhile from the worthless.

Yield in no manner from the policy set forth.

Adhere to the canons of journalism.

Name the names, keep the reader informed, whatever the issue.

The Wesleyan Spirit

What is this thing which we as students call the Wesleyan spirit?

It is the sense of belonging that sophomores and freshmen share, the pride and love they develop for their school.

It is the cooperation that is shown by students to the faculty and each other.

It is the friendships that develop through dormitory life.

It is the participation of each individual in school activities that gives a sense of satisfaction, as a group as well as to the individual.

And most of all it is that undefinable, almost mystic spirit that surrounds us all, and makes us happy.

A College Education

The four years of college which lie before you are not only the concluding segment of your formal education but are also the preparation of your life after college.

Your college days will be centered around reading textbooks, understanding lectures, writing term papers and taking exams. These activities are the foundation of your learning; they should be undertaken seriously.

But the pursuit of a college education does not subside as classes and studying end. Participation in campus academic and special organizations and activities can augment the learning you can derive from books, lectures and research papers.

EXECUTIVE EDITOR	Wanda Exum
ASSISTANT EDITOR	Mary C. Hodgin
NEWS EDITOR	George Markham
SOCIETY EDITOR	Evelyn Harris
SPORTS EDITOR	Larry Matthews
TYPISTS	Patsy Ann Gorham, Lillie Mae Delamar
REPORTERS	Winni Stine, Betty Carol Spain, Lucy Christine Braswell, Ronnie Kent Brokenbrough, Mona Cozart, May Fitz-Gerald
BUSINESS MANAGER	David Caison
PHOTOGRAPHY	Tony Harold Incoe

Wesleyan College Student

12 Additions Listed For College Faculty

Twelve additional members have been named to the college faculty and staff, as follows:

Mrs. Marie Fisher—Secretary to the Dean.

Mr. Ronald Sherron—Director of Admissions.

Margaret Walters—Library Secretary.

Mrs. Leonard Barns—Faculty Secretary.

Mrs. Frances McFarland—Resident Counselor.

Dr. James R. Hailey—Instructor of Religion.

Mrs. Nell Hailey — Campus Nurse.

Miss Tassie Langley—Instructor of English.

Mr. Joe Kilgore—Instructor of Chemistry.

Col. Sam Hall — Instructor of Mathematics.

Dr. Stephen J. Hunter—Professor of Economics.

Dr. Joe Burchfield—Professor of Physics.

The new faculty members were presented to the students at the president's tea which was held Friday night, September 15.

College Has Night Classes

The College is conducting evening classes in several subjects.

Poetry is being taught by Dr. C. Edwin Harwood.

Introduction To Natural Science is being taught by Dr. Arch Sharer, Bill Kilgore and Joe Burchfield.

Steven Hunter is teaching Principles of Economics.

Developmental Reading is being taught by Miss Tassie Langley.

