Community Urged To Be 'Responsive'

Rev. Leon Russell, speaking at the opening worship convocation on the campus, urged the Wesleyan College community to be "responsive to their responsibility."

Approximately 400 students, professors, and friends of the college gathered in the improvised chapel within the new Cafeteria Building to share in the opening worship service.

Rev. Russell is pastor of Front Street Methodist Church in Burlington. He spoke from the text, "This is the condemnation, that light is come into the world, and men loved darkness rather than light." He lamented the fact many are not willing to see or accept responsibility.

"Many others," he said, "see and are not responsive. The only way we at Wesleyan can pay our debt to all who have made this college possible is to be responsive to our opportunities for knowledge."

Meeting Scheduled Wednesday On Intramural Sports Program

A program of intramural sports for Wesleyan Students is in progress.

According to Dr. Raymond Bauer, head of the Physical Education Department, the program will allow participation in the following: tag football, basketball, volley ball, horse shoes, ping pong, tennis and softball.

A meeting is scheduled for Wednesday at 12:00 at which time students can sign up to participate.

Ten Must Sign

Teams will be formed provided that ten students sign up for a team. The team scoring the largest number of points will be awarded individual trophies at the end of the school year.

The purpose of the new intramural sports program on campus, as stated by Coach Bauer, is to "involve all students in physical activity after the school day has ended."

Play will begin next week in touch football. All boys interested in playing on a team should plan to participate in the intramural program.

An unlimited number of teams can be formed. Instruction will be given in the various sports activities. All students are urged by the Physical Education Department to take an active part in the intramural program.

Favorite Pastime

Among America's favorite pastimes, sports rank first. They are an intrinsic part of our democratic heritage. Just as we have adopted the form of government instituted by the Greeks years before Christ, so have we adopted their love of games.

This competitive spirit is so much a part of the American makeup that we have founded our entire economic system upon it. We are a nation of individualists, and in this modern, highly organized world of specialization, we often find it necessary to assert that individuality.

There are different methods of accomplishing such a task and we feel that sports, whether one is a participant directly or indirectly, is the answer to which thousands of Americans turn.

Not only can sports aid us as individuals but as societies endeavoring to live together harmoniously.

Student Newspaper Will Publish Ads

Plans are being made to carry commercial advertising in the next edition of the student newspaper, which is scheduled for publication October 11.

The staff was handicapped in the preparation of this edition due to the limited number of students available for work, and there was not sufficient time to solicit advertising.
