

2 Suggestions For Newspaper Name Are Voted Down

Two suggestion for the name of the Student Newspaper were voted down by the students in Assembly yesterday.

They were WESLEYAN DECRE-TAL, and the WESLEYAN CAL-LEGE.

According to the Publications Commission, DECRETAL means a statement of the pope concerning affairs of the church and things that have happened in the kingdom. The Callage means a picture made from pieces of paper of words.

The Circuit Rider, name of the student newspaper last year, was not voted on by the student body or brought before the Student Council for consideration or approval.

Therefore, many comments of disavor were made by Wesleyan Students. It was discovered that this name was used as the name for many college newspapers and especially Seminary papers.

Even though the Circuit Rider is considered appropriate by many students, other suggestions have been given. The decision of naming the paper officially was then turned over to the Cabinet, but with no definite response. Therefore, at the end of last year there was no official name for the newspaper, according to Vann Massey, President of the SGA.

In order to secure a permanent name for the newspaper this year, the issue was turned over to publications chairman, Bill Hoyle. Suggestions for names were submitted by students to Bill, for committee review. Two were selected and were to be presented to the Student Body for a vote.

The student body voted against the names suggested by the publications committee, making it necessary to have more names suggested.

Conscience Of The Community

cil recommends on matters of principle not set laws or codes.

The Community Council does not, however, have a matter referred to it but can investigate or recommend in any area where it finds a need for the boosting of morale, morals, and principles.

The Community Council in short is the spirit and conscience of the Wesleyan community as well as a body with which appeals can be made.
