

THE WESLEYAN DECREE

Vol. 2 No. 8

ROCKY MOUNT, N. C.

February 7, 1962

Delegation Will Go To High Point

By invitation, a Wesleyan College delegation will visit High Point College Feb. 17 to exchange ideas on athletic and Student Government affairs.

This student government delegation, along with the Director of Student Life, Dr. James R. Hailey, includes the president of the S.G.A., Vann Massey; Vice President John Alden; and the respective chairmen of the Interfaith, Publications, and Social Commissions: Marie Fisher, Bill Hoyle, and Evelyn Harris.

The delegation will arrive at High Point about 10 a. m. They will visit the campus and talk with student leaders. After eating lunch together they will attend several afternoon meetings.

Some of the notable highlights of the meeting will be a study of the constitution, an athletic program, and the possible formation of a Student Christian Association.

Summer Jobs

The Interfaith Commission would like to remind students that they are sponsoring a summer placement bureau. The information available concerns jobs all over the country.

Some of the jobs offered are: counseling, resort, national park, government, hospital (mental and children's), church evangelist, underprivileged children, research, and corporation.

Check by the Commission's office for further information.

Musicians To Give Series Of Concerts

William and Thelma Sasser, duopianists, will present a series of concerts during February in various North Carolina cities. The recitals will be composed of works originally written for four hands at one piano.

Dr. Sasser is a member of the music faculty at Wesleyan and Mrs. Sasser teaches privately in Rocky Mount.

The programs are scheduled as follows: Feb. 6, Atlantic Christian College in Wilson; Feb. 13, Wesleyan College; Feb. 21, Methodist College in Fayetteville; and Feb. 28, North Carolina College in Durham.

Tarboro Rest Home Visited By Students

Plans have been made for students to visit the Tarboro Rest Home, making a good will tour every Saturday afternoon, according to Marie Fisher, Interfaith Commission chairman.

Students who visited the home last week end not only had a wonderful and satisfying experience but met many elderly people and laid the cornerstone for lasting friendships. It was surprising how much some of them knew about the "goings on" out at the new college near Rocky Mount.

Several of them wanted to know who and how many Tarboro students were enrolled at Wesleyan. Soon the students realized that they were the ones that were being quizzed.

There were some of the most interesting people living at the rest home. Who could ever forget the bird-like little woman who, very independently, vowed and declared that she was not going to church the next day or any other day.

How about Buck, who seemed to find humor in everything?

Then there was that sweet little absent-minded lady who kept forgetting her age. She thought she was fifty-two or was it sixty-three? "You are eighty-four," commented one of her friends. Whew! The lady sighed as if with sudden realization.

All in all, this is a trip well worth any student's Saturday afternoon. Anyone may come. To make arrangements see Marie Fisher or contact any newspaper staff member.

OF THE MANY VANISHING campus scenes here is one we regret.

Sixteen Students Make Dean's List

The Dean's List for the fall semester of 1961 (even though the price is getting higher) is a lot longer than it was last semester.

Of course, consideration has to be taken of the fact that the student body has more than doubled. Even with this in mind, listening to all the "promising" that is going around campus now, the list for next semester should prove to be a startling length.

The lucky 16 who made it this semester are:

Constitution Undergoing Revisions

Much progress toward the revisions of the Student Government Constitution was made in a meeting of the Constitution Committee Saturday, Feb. 3. The Committee will meet again this Friday night, Feb. 9, in hopes of producing a rough draft for publication by Feb. 14.

Some time during the Student Leaders Retreat on Feb. 24, a time will be set aside for all students to come in and discuss the proposed revisions.

Chairman of the Committee, Vann Massey, said, "We hope to have an even more democratic constitution by the end of this year. We have learned much from experience this year in the organization of the SGA and we feel that this experience will help us a great deal as we correct our mistakes."

The committee invites every student to discuss their ideas on the Constitution with members of the Committee. There will also be an open discussion on Saturday, Feb. 24. The more progress in developing the kind of Constitution the students want that can be made in the committee, the less unnecessary confusion will result in the Student Body meeting. The Committee, consisting of Vann Massey, John Alden, Dicky Moore and President Thomas Collins will be glad to discuss with any student his views on the constitution and listen to any suggestion or recommendations they have concerning the revisions.

Game Suggestions

The Athletic Commission has hopes of setting up office in the Commissions Room for the purpose of checking out games. We would appreciate any suggestions of new games that you would like added.

The games should be ones that can be played in the Student Union. Suggestions can be turned in to Jim Johnston, Don Everett and Jerry Miller.

75 Students Visit Campus

There will be two more high school week ends on February 10 and 11 and on March 10 and 11.

Despite the snow the last week end, some 75 high school students from North Carolina, Virginia, New Jersey, and the Washington area took part in the various activities on campus as guests of the college. Of this group 58 participated in the competitive scholarship examinations.

Similar examinations will be offered on both the coming week ends.

In addition to the high school guests, prospective junior college graduates will compete for five Wesleyan Awards being offered to junior applicants.

Sophomore Class To Sponsor Dance Saturday, Feb. 10

Hold on to your newspaper, steady now, the sophomore class is sponsoring a Valentine Dance Saturday, Feb. 10!

Yes, it's true, the admission is $.50 stag and $.75 drag.

"Circumstances and popular demand" result in a juke box for music. Refreshments will be served, of course. The attire will be sportswear; what else?

The dance will last from 8 till 11:30 p. m. but anyone can stay to help clean up.

A Blue Jean Queen—correction—a Valentine Sweetheart, will be crowned from the five contestants chosen from the student body Tuesday.

Tickets go on sale today! Contact Vann Massey to get yours. Vann is anticipating selling at least one to a person.
