

New Science Course To Be Offered

Plant Taxonomy will be taught for the first time at Wesleyan during the coming spring semester. The course is open to freshmen and upperclass students. There is no prerequisite. This course deals with the identification of the more common plants of North Carolina and with their structure and development. The entire plant kingdom, from algae and fungi through mosses, liverworts, ferns, and seed plants, will be included. The course will be taught by Dr. K.A. Wagner, a new member of the Science Division staff. Dr. Wagner comes to Wesleyan from Powell Laboratories in Gladstone, Oregon. He is the author of numerous publications in plant taxonomy and ecology.

DISSENER '66 Plans Take Shape

Blaine Adams, editor of the DISSENER, stated recently that plans for the 1965-66 annual are already taking shape. Next year it is hoped that the book will be increased by eight pages and the cover remaining basically the same, with slight alterations in design. The annual itself will remain the same standard college size. There will be changes in color with the possible addition of more color sections in the book itself.

Pictures for the DISSENER will primarily be taken by Apeda Studios. Class pictures were taken recently with 75% of the student body participating compared to 60% last year. The cost of the individual pictures to the student is free unless he decides to have additional prints made.

The DISSENER cost approximately $7.00 per book this past edition, with cost rising next year to approximately $8.00 per book.

Debbie Neale and Gwyn Carson are Managing Editors, and Joe Boling is the Business Manager of the DISSENER this year.

Also, Blaine Adams stated that the DISSENER is now in the process of establishing a yearbook exchange program with all the colleges in the D. I. A. C. Conference and colleges participating in the American Yearbook Co. "College Year" book program. It is hoped that the program will eventually cover the whole United States.

The DISSENER announced recently that they are now a member of the Associated Collegiate Press, which is the nation's oldest and largest college and university press association with its center at the University of Minnesota.

Snackbar To Be Decorated

Debbie Neale - chairman, Marilyn Shepard, Paul Robinette, Dale Harris, Jimmy West, Doug Groseclose will serve on a committee to decorate the snack bar. Several decoration schemes will be presented by this committee to the student body and a final selection will be made by the students. Money has been recently appropriated for this project by the administration.

CORRECTION

In the November 12 issue of The Decree the statement was made that in a letter President Collins explained that the recent revision of the "athletic attire" clause was not law but rather a recommendation by the Senate.

This sentence should have read as follows: President Collins explained to Dr. Frye that the recent revision of the "athletic attire" clause was not law but rather a recommendation by the Senate.

Student Banking Hours Changed By Smith

In response to a petition signed by over 400 students, Comptroller Jasper Smith announced November 30 the following changes in the hours during which students may have checks cashed. This schedule was effective December 6.

The new schedule is as follows:
Monday through Friday: 11:20 a.m. to 1 p.m. and 3:45 p.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Saturday: 10:20 p.m. to 11:30 a.m.

The Grievance Committee of the Senate recently approached Mr. Smith and suggested that a change be made. The recommendation made by the committee was identical to the one approved except for the afternoon hours. The committee had asked for 3:30 to 5:00 p.m. during weekdays.

In a letter to Dean Frye, Mr. Smith explained why some revisions were made in the originally proposed change. "You will note," he wrote, "that this revises somewhat the proposal made by the Grievance Committee. Our experience and ability to perform indicates that the morning hour should be extended, and that the afternoon hour be shortened. Our people have to work in shifts in order to get their lunch and to keep the office open at the same time.

"In the afternoon," Smith continued, "it is completely essential that our office have sufficient time to balance our cash and prepare the withdrawal slips for posting the first thing the next morning."

He added, "May we express again our appreciation for the help given by the students in informing us as to their wishes. We hope that the schedule presented herewith will be satisfactory to all."

FERRANTE AND TEICHER

America's most popular duo piano team, Ferrante and Teicher, will present a concert of popular music in the Gymnasium on Wednesday, January 19 at 8:15 p.m.

The Social Commission, headed by B. J. Myers, will sponsor the concert. General Admission is $2.50 and reserved seats $3.00. The pianists will play such hits as "Exodus", theme from "The Apartment", and "Tonight." Their recordings of these numbers have each sold more than a million records.

LIBRARY

The building is expected to cost $450,000 fully equipped.

Preparation of an application for the necessary matching Federal assistance is progressing on schedule, according to college officials, Dr. Allen F. Cordts, director of development, and W. Jasper Smith, comptroller.

The latest gift announced by the college was made by a foundation formed to honor the memory of Z. Smith Reynolds, the youngest son of R. J. Reynolds, Sr., the founder of the Winston-Salem tobacco company. The foundation's activities have been many and varied, all confined to North Carolina in keeping with stipulations of the foundation's charter.

Circle K News

The Circle K Club recently earned $100 by helping the Rocky Mount Kiwanis Club in its annual peanut sale. The money will be put on account toward the purchase of the new college seal for the gym. Other activities of the Circle K this year have included the semi-annual car wash and ushering various school functions.

At the last meeting Doug Groseclose was elected as Vice-president to succeed Wade Register. Doug has been Chairman of the Public Relations Committee this year and will now coordinate the activities of the various committees of the club. Doug and President Mel Gay were representatives to the annual convention in Miami Beach last summer, where both gained much valuable knowledge about Circle K.

Circle K had had many excellent programs this year, including Mr. Tim Valentine on the Speaker-Ban-Law, Mayor John Minges on his trip to Russia, and Mr. Jasper Cummings on how to remember names.

Future Circle K projects include the college seal for the space over the gym doors and the K-pal Project.

The K-pal Program is a new program where the men of the Circle K are matched with men of the Kiwanis Club for the purpose of advice and counseling. The men get together at various times to discuss aspects of the student's future professions.
