VanLaan: "Two Aspects"

By BOB O'KEEF

Jim VanLann, acting editor of the Aspects, the North Carolina Wesleyan literary magazine, hopes that two editions of the magazine will be printed this year.

Van Lann reported that student support is needed so that the first magazine will be out before December. Students who would like a short story, poetry, art work photography, or essay in the Aspects should hand the article in before October 20 if they would like it in the December issue.

Professors Under Study By Students

The administration of North Carolina Wesleyan College is now evaluating its faculty to insure that a relative level of efficiency is maintained. The administration is reviewing opinions of staff members, other faculty members, students, and college records and will use this information as a basis for measuring each professor's value.

Items such as an instructor's availability to his students, his knowledge of current events within his field, the number of students following up his courses with majors or graduate work, are used in determining his value as a professor. The administration is attempting to determine whether or not a faculty member is fulfilling his duties as an instructor and that he works in co-operation and not in conflict with his students and fellow instructors.

The evaluation finally is based upon student evaluation of the professors. This is giving the student body a voice in determining the quality of the professor's instruction.

More information on the evaluation of the faculty will be available at a later date.

VanLann named the following people of the Division Editors: Poetry: Phyllis Patterson, Art: Baxter Smith III, Essay: David Siple, Short Story: Sean Moran, and assistant overall editor: Charles Waters.

All material which is handed in to be printed should be typed if possible and must have the author's name on it. The magazine will sell for 25¢ an issue this year.

"We will stress creativity in all of the things that are put into the book," VanLann said. "This is the first year that we have had photography and we hope that this will spread student participation."

Any student or faculty member may submit articles or drawings, or pictures to the Aspects staff. All students are reminded that the magazine cannot be printed unless articles are handed in.

October Dates Set For Graduate Record Exams

Educational Testing Service has announced that undergraduates and others preparing to go to graduate school may take the Graduate Record Examinations on any of six different test dates during the current academic year.

The first testing date for the GRE is October 24, 1970. Scores from this administration will be reported to the graduate schools around December 1. Students planning to register for the October test date are advised that applications received by ETS after October 6 will incur a $3.00 late registration fee. After October 9, there is no guarantee that applications for the October test date can be processed.

The other five test dates are December 12, 1970, January 16, February 27, April 24 and June 19, 1971. Equivalent late fee and registration deadlines apply to these dates. Choice of test dates should be determined

Supreme Court: When Shall We Revise It?

By ALLEN WINTER

How well do you know your Student Court System?

The Supreme Court is composed of seven justices, but did you know that only one of those seven has ever served on Supreme Court prior to this year? The nomination of justices is handled by the Senate each year and the implication is that the justice must be a politician to retain his office. A sub-committee of last year's senate proposed that applicants for justices: 1. must file an application for nomination. 2. Applications be reviewed by the S. G. A. President and must meet with individual, two-thirds majority Senate approval. 3. Membership on the Supreme Court shall terminate upon resignation or failure to maintain prime office requirements. 4. Term of office shall not exceed three years.

The Constitution of the S. G. A. mentions that the Supreme Court has jurisdiction over eleven types of crime yet no mention is made by the constitution of the sentencing for these crimes. Should sentencing be limited and defined for president? Last year's Senate proposed: Sentencing 1. expulsion 2. suspension 3. suspended suspension 4. social probation 5. fines 6. reprimand.

Last year this writer defended in Supreme Court two girls that were given notice just eight hours prior to the meeting of the Court they were to appear stating the charges and the fact that they must appear before the court. Should a definite night for Supreme Court meetings be set? Should a time limit be set on how soon an accused person must appear before the court? The proposal of last year's senate is: A definite night shall be set aside as a permanent meeting time for the Supreme Court.

1. Attendance at meetings of the court shall be compulsory except in extreme cases. 2. Absences must be cleared with the chief justice. 3. Unexcused absences are subject to impeachment by the Senate. Time limit: 1. All trials must be held no less than five days following, and no more than ten days following, the filing of accusation.

A proposal was also made concerning written accusations: 1. All accusations must be filed within two days after the incident involved. 2. All accusations must be filed in written form by the Attorney General to the Chief Justice. 3. The accused must be notified within two days after charges have been brought against him.

These proposals are significant to point out the weaknesses of our court system. The strength of the Wesleyan Supreme Court history is that many distinguished justices have acted in a fair manner.

SMENC To Present Faculty Frolics Soon

On Friday, 8:15 p.m. October 9, 1970, Student Music Educators of North Carolina will present Wesleyan Faculty Frolics in Everett Gymnasium. Faculty Frolics was first presented last year in order to raise money for a music scholarship. This year's performance will feature songs, dances, skits, and impersonations.

A favorite from last year was Dr. Thomas Collins' impersonation of Jack Benny. Also, coaches Scalf and Chancey, Mr. Mizelle and Dr. Davis intrigued the audience with their quartet.

The year's program will feature President Collins, Assistant Alexander, Dean Moore, Dean Cordts, Mr. Mizelle, Dr. Davis, and Mrs. Harrison. A complete cast is not available at this time.

The Faculty Frolics program has in the past provided good entertainment for a good cause.

Tickets may be bought from any SMENC member or if reservations are desired see the Dean of Students. A limited number of tickets will be sold at the door. The cost per tickets is $1.00.

Parents Weekend Declared Success

Wesleyan's Third Annual Parent's Week End was held Oct. 2, 3, and 4 on campus. The attending parents gained new insights into the Wesleyan community as well as an idea of what their offspring were doing. The week end was considered a success by some authorities.

The Friday schedule began with registration in the Administration Building. That evening outstanding entertainment was provided by Ravi Shankar who appeared in Wesleyan's first Concert series program.

On Saturday registration was reopened and continued all morning. Lunch was preceded by an open house in all departments, and followed by a dormitory open house. Later in the afternoon a fashion show was presented in the gymnasium. President Thomas Collins held a reception in his home for the new students and their parents. Saturday evenings festivities were crowned with a banquet at Buck Overtons followed by informal receptions at the homes of various faculty members.

The program was concluded Sunday with a Morning Worship Service conducted in the gymnasium by the Inter-Faith Commission.
