

FROM THE CIRCULAR FILE

BY WILL THOMSON

Here is a little dialogue that I wouldn't be surprised to hear on that silent night so clear in this day and age. We see Joe and Frank, policemen, on patrol in the suburbs.

"Car two-niner-zero. . . intercept prowler at Five-oh-two Smith Street. Suspect may be armed. . . use code Four. Out."

"You'd think these guys would at least take Christmas eve off, Huh?"

"Yeah, but since we're on duty we might as well have something to do. It's probably a neighbor's cat or the lady's husband tryin' to sneak in late, anyway."

"Well, here's the place, let's go."

"What's that on the roof?"

"Probably Christmas decoration; comon."

"Hey wait! Somethin's movin' up there! It's him, comin' Out of the chimney!"

"OUT OF THE CHIMNEY?"

"HEY, YOU! FREEZE! THIS IS THE POLICE!"

"DROP THAT BAG!"

"COME ON DOWN, NICE AND EASY; ONE FAST MOVE AN' PLL PLUG YA!"

Later, outside the interrogation room at headquarters:

"How's it goin' in there, Frank?"

"He's a tough old nut to crack. I think he's been off the deep end for a long time."

"Yeah, when I saw that red suit I figured that he was cracked. Spooky, that laugh of his. . ."

"And I didn't peg him to be a burgler, too fat. That beer gut of his shook when he laughed like a bowl fulla Jello."

"The Chief says the guys from the Booby-Hatch will be here in a few minutes."

"How about his loot?"

"If nobody claims it, we'll turn it over to the orphanage. There was nothin' but toys and fruit, candy and stuff like that."

"Weird. Well, somebody will have a merry Christmas. . ."

You know, I kinda feel sorry for the old guy, he seemed like a nice old buzzard."

Care Seeks Funds For $7½ Million Relief Campaign

ATLANTA--The relief crisis created by the influx of Pakistani refugees has been compounded by floods or drought in six states of India, necessitating an increase in the 1971 holiday-season CARE Food Crusade fund appeal.

To conduct emergency aid for these groups in addition to scheduled programs aimed mainly at saving children from hunger and malnutrition will require $7,500,000 CARE Executive Director Frank L. Goffio announced. The fund goal is $800,000,000 more than last year.

Combined with operating support from host governments and U.S. donations of farm abundance, the Food Crusade will complete an overall plan to help feed 28,350,000 people in 35 countries or areas during the coming year. Public contributions will be applied at the rate of $1 per food package or unit.

Emergency aid in India will go to 2,750,000 persons, including Pakistani refugees; drought victims in Mysore and Maharashtra; flood victims in Bihar, Orissa, Uttar Pradesh and West Bengal.

Of the 25,600,000 recipients in regular programs, 24,900,000 will be children fed daily at baby clinics, preschool and nutrition centers, schools and other institutions--often, in facilities built under CARE's Self-Help Program and hospitals where CARE-MEDICO teams are based. Adults are helped in food-for-work projects.

Food Crusade units vary according to country and nutritional needs. Supplies include U. S. commodities, donated after domestic welfare requests are filled: products donated by the food industry, and foods bought by CARE. Under the direction of American staff members in each area, deliveries are made in the name of the American people. Contributions may be sent to: CARE food Crusade, 615 Forsyth Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. 30303.

ber so entrance could be gained.

I realize that this has been written in a sarcastic tone, but let me assure you that the problems are many. If there should be an emergency call; (as A.R.C. I may be needed), a phone call for specific library business, or just a desire for communication with a student, it is totally impossible.

Again we see exactly how limited Student Responsibility goes here at Wesleyan - half way. Surely Helen Steiner, David Forrest, or David Smith, (the three people on duty last night) are responsible enough to handle the responsibility of having access to the office.

It amazes me that the Curriculum Material Center and the Bathrooms are available to the students in the evening despite the fact that the "personnel" is not on duty!!

III of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act to experiment with means for teaching values to middle school children. One component of this program included the use of para-professionals who would be college students assigned full-time for one year.

Five Wesleyan students were selected to participate and are presently teaching in schools throughout Washington County. Four are sophomores: Lee Bowers, Ernest Clark, Bob O'Keefe, and Howard Payne. Scott

Polley is the only junior participating. These students have varying degrees of responsibilities. All, however, are getting early exposure to public school situations and all are teaching under the supervision of experienced teachers. Each of them takes late afternoon

Cross Bloodmobile's visit to campus on March 15, 1972. Again this year, Wesleyan College will participate in the College Bowl program, and the student contribution to the Red Cross at this time could determine whether or not Wesleyan will keep the College Bowl which was awarded earlier this year.
