

Knights Tame NCWC

St. Andrews Knights v- Everett Gymnasium this Tuesday to unveil their im- ve 1 and 9 season record. ssive it was not, even they out played Wesley- the second half and squeae- their second victory 47

Don't think it would be a ke to say St. Andrews is worst college basketball this reporter has ever Don't be deceived just se they baffled. Wesley- s more problems that Bo- passky had against Bobby er. Captain Nick Lau- is still out with a knee y, Jimmy Smith is lost while due to an ankle in- three valuable players he team for personal rea- and three new players have added to Coach Mike s cagers. Needless to will take time for them ust to Coach Pratt's ever- ng offensive theories. er, all is not lost. I'll ue reporting the games e DECREE and the Bishops nish their schedule re- ss of their record.

istically, the Bishops not the better team this Although they out rebounded Saint Andrews 46 to 33, they had more turnovers and shot a dreadful 28% from the floor. St. Andrews in turn shot a mere 38%, but this was partly due to their coach's demand that his players on the bench were to wear gloves to keep their shoot- ing hands warm.

Al Bonds led the Knight's scoring with 15 points while Wesleyan was led by another steady performance from Neal Chambers with 11 points. Cha- mbers, a sophomore, has been a standout in the past two home games while Willie Mitchell continues to perform admirably.

I urge the student body to attend the remainder of the Bis- hops home games in a positive effort to revive the Wesleyan Cagers. I've always found a large crowd makes one perform better.

Mike Shannon (34) goes up for two as Jimmy Smith (32) and Elbert Wampler (10) look on. (Photo by Gravely).

BISHOPS vs. UNC-P TONIGHT 7:30

With All-Conference for- ward Greg O'Steen dominating the offensive boards and rack- ing up 24 points, the Greens- boro College Hornets routed a confused and inexperienced We- sleyan squad 63 to 53. It look- ed bad for the Bishops right from the start as they were pla- gued by many turnovers and a considerable lack of patience on offense. The turnovers were largely the result of Greens- boro's full count man to man press while the lack of patience was due to inexperience. The first half score was 40-29, Greensboro, and it was obvious that the Bishops were in for a tough second half.

It looked as if Wesleyan mi- ght make a game of it as Mike Shannon brought the Bis- hops to within five points of the lead. Unfortunately for the Bis- hops, Greensboro continued to be effective from inside the tion, and Black and Blue (no longer in existence) compiled the most votes as bands desired on campus.

Spring Fling

(Continued from Page 1)

"The questionnaire helped us to be sure," said Hardison, "but at the same time the questionnaire made us stop and think. The people who want the week end to remain didn't go, and they want nothing in the cafeteria. We don't have that kind of money to book a hall for the entire weekend." Har- dison said the Social Commis- sion does not feel obligated by the results of the question- naire but instead will use the figures to best entertain the replying students with money remaining in the budget.

At press time plans had been made concerning the weekend but Social Commission repre- sentatives declined comment on the format or choice of enter- tainment.

key with short jumpers and lay- ups, and they uped the margin to eleven points with a little more than ten minutes to go in the game. O'Steen managed to collect his usual garbage and this accounted for eight of his game high 24 points.

With four minutes to go Gre- ensboro installed its stall of- fense. As Wesleyan players ran from corner to corner in an effort to get the ball back it was frustrating watching this hap- pen.

Regardless, it was a sloppy game and neither team played well. The turn-overs and re- bounds were about even for both teams, however, the Bis- hops shot a miserable 57.8%. Mike Shannon led Wesleyan's Scorers with 13 points follow- ed by Neal Chambers with 11.

Neal Chambers lays in two quick points for the Bishops. (Photo by Bowers.)

MACK'S TAVERN

THE
"NEW" PLACE TO MEET

HAPPY HOURS!!!

7 til 9 Every Tuesday

North Church St. Ext. Rocky Mount, N. C.