

NU GAMMA PHI

In the short seven years that Nu Gamma Phi has been in existence, it has proven itself in all areas of campus life. Chartered as a social fraternity, it is dedicated to the improvement of social life as evidenced by the two beer blasts and pig roast held last semester.

But Nu Gamma Phi is more than just a social fraternity. It has contributed on innumerable occasions to the Wesleyan community. Painting the Tank Theatre, sponsoring Easter Egg Hunts for the boys at Fountain School, and establishing the Earl Harper Scholarship Fund are just a few examples.

But Nu Gamma Phi is more than just a social-service fraternity. It is a successful fraternity. How does one explain winning seven consecutive inter-fraternity basketball games, five Homecoming Bed Races, four Homecoming Display Awards, and the Dean of Students Award? During the past seven years, the brotherhood of Nu Gamma Phi has had among their number four SGA presidents, four President Cup recipients, and numerous members of Omicron Delta Kappa Leadership Honor Society. In addition, seven Nu Gamma Phi sweethearts have reigned as N. C. Wesleyan Homecoming Queens.

Nu Gamma Phi is all these: social-oriented, service-minded, and successful. But most important, it is a brotherhood—a group of diverse individuals bound together by the principles of brotherhood. Rush week is the time during which you can look at the brotherhood and it can look at you. We hope that you will take a look at what we are, what we have been, and what we could be with you as a brother of Nu Gamma Phi.

"Aren't you two on speaking terms again today?"

SIGMA OMEGA

We're not going to fill this article with bull about how our brotherhood concerns itself with academics, strong brotherhood, community and campus service and social events. It's true and I could do that, but we feel that you the reader, would see it as just that: bull.

Sigma Omega seeks to meet and cope with the realities of life through these four standards. The times in between and during these dealings create the closely knit character of Sigma Omega. The brotherhood recognizes diverseness in each brother and, yet, maintains this strong brotherly characteristic: There is no set standard for a Sig-O brother except what the IFC requires.

Service-wise, Sigma Omega has held general functions. They extend anywhere from a 56-hour basketball marathon held in Tarrytown Mall to painting the Garber Chapel stage and assisting in painting the Coltrane Theatre. Two years in a row the brotherhood has received the Dean of Students award and awards from Omicron Delta Kappa concerning blood donations.

Socially, Sigma Omega is very active. Parties have been held on beaches of the outer banks and at the quiet shores of Lake Gaston; either it's a dress-up dinner at J. R.'s or a steak cookout; either a P. J. party at a brother's apartment or a beer blast at the Pizza Inn.

If you feel that you would enjoy getting to know about Sigma Omega, come to the Sig-O lounge the night of January 21 or ask any Sigma Omega brother.
