Honors Convocation Awards Given

"No matter how many honors may come to each of us, we have a responsibility to continue to give the best of ourselves," said Dr. Raymond E. Bauer in remarks during the 22nd annual Honors Convocation at North Carolina Wesleyan College on Sunday, April 18.

A total of 27 awards were presented to students, faculty, and campus organizations for achievement in academic and student life activities during the 1981-82 academic year.

Dr. Bauer was among the original faculty when the College opened its doors to students in September 1960. A professor of physical education, Dr. Bauer served as Academic Dean of the College 1972-1976. In his Convocation Address, Dr. Bauer said, "We should always pursue wisdom and knowledge. Any honors we received in that pursuit, however, ultimately must go unto the Lord."

Karen Lee Kolleck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Carl Kolleck of Medford, New Jersey, received the top student award, the President's Cup. It is presented each year to the senior voted by the faculty as most favorably exemplifying the ideas of North Carolina Wesleyan College. Ms. Kolleck, an elementary education major, was presented the award by College President Dr. S. Bruce Petteway and Vice President of the Office of Student Life William Jay Garlow.

Earl Wayland Roberson, Jr., the son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wayland Roberson, Sr. of Hampton, Virginia, was honored as the recipient of the Algernon Sydney Sullivan Award. The College is authorized by the New York Southern Society to present two Algernon Sydney Sullivan Awards yearly, one to a student and one to a community leader. Jasper L. and Margaret Cummings of Rocky Mount received the coveted award at the College's Founders Day Convocation last October. Roberson is a senior majoring in biology.

Debra J. Webb, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Smith and Bonnie Fulcher Flynn, wife of Donald H. Flynn of Wilson, North Carolina were presented with Outstanding Academic Achievement Awards by Interim Vice President of Academics Frances R. Harrison. Ms. Webb, a senior majoring in elementary education, received her Academic Achievement Award for those students that have attended North Carolina Wesleyan College for four years. Mrs. Flynn, a senior majoring in psychology-sociology-anthropology, received her Academic Achievement Award for those students that have transferred to the College. ## Johnson to take trip abroad with Wesleyan students

By Brooks Skinner
Decree staff

Dr. Allen Johnson, Professor of History will be taking a group of seven people, two of whom are

Wesleyan students, on a tour of The Holy Land, Egypt, and Greece. Willie Batchler and Joe Blyth are the two Wesleyan students who will accompany Dr. Johnson. This trip will be Dr. Johnson's tenth trip overseas in charge of a Wesleyan group. He led two trips abroad when he taught at Oklahoma Baptist College.

The group will leave from New York May 10. They will visit The Holy Land first. Dr. Johnson explained that the group will visit Bible sites, both Christian and Hebrew. The group plans tours of Bethlehem and Nazereth as well as Modern Jerusalem and Tel-Aviv. The Sea of Galilee, Jericho and the Dead Sea Area, and Masada are also featured in Israel.

From Tel-Aviv the group will take a bus through Gaza and across the Sinai desert into Egypt. A ferry across the Suez Canal and a short bus trip through the Nile River Delta will take them to Cairo. In Cairo the group will visit the Pyramids and the Cairo Museum along with visits to Christian and Muslim areas in Cairo. A two day trip up the Nile to Thebes, including visits to the Valley of the Kings and the Temple of Karnac of Luxor, will cap off the Egyptian tour.

After flying back to Cairo the group will fly on to Athens. In Athens the group will visit the Acropolis as well as the Athens museum which houses some of the most valuable treasures of classical Greece and Troy. There will also be a one day cruise through the islands around Athens and a one day trip to Corinth. The group will fly home to New May 24 via Swissair.

Criminal Justice Career Day held

On March 26, 1982, the Fourth Annual Criminal Justice Career Day as held in the Everett Gymnasium on the Wesleyan Campus. The program was sponsored by the Criminal Justice Department and according to Bob DeCatsye, Criminal Justice Director, the day was the best ever.

DeCatsye stated that approximately 400 students from Wesleyan and 28 from other colleges attended the event to discuss career plans and employment opportunities within the Criminal Justice field.

Recruiting representatives from 31 agencies at the federal, state and local agencies were represented and were very pleased with this years turnout of students. Some of the larger agencies participating were the U.S. Secret Service, U.S. Bureau of Prisons, Campbell University Law School, N.C. Division of Prisons, State Bureau of Investigation, N.C. Wildlife, and police departments from Charlotte, Durham,

Greensboro, Raleigh, Rocky Mount and Wilmington.

DeCatsye stated that the purpose of the program is to keep students current of changing employment trends as they develop within the field. He said it also allows students to study prerequisites for employment as well as current salary structures.

Rufus Edmisten, North Carolina Attorney General, was a guest speaker and made a strong law and order speech. Edmisten outlined many current problems facing the state in areas of drugs, juvenile delinquency, and organized crime. Edmisten also stressed the urgent need for dedicated young people to enter the area of Criminal Justice. He warned those present that the financial reward is not great within the system and that they should not expect to get rich working on a police department. He stated the real reward was in serving and especially in working with young people in the hopes of diverting them from a life of crime.
