Registration procedures face change

By D.A. LENTZ

The registration process has been a major concern of the Student Government Association (SGA) for some time.

Many students have complained that the current registration process is too slow and inconvenient, and SGA has been attempting to work with the Registrar's Office and the Business Office to improve the registration system. SGA invited Cliff Sullivan to speak before the Senate on Oct. 16.

The Registrar's Office is working on a new system to replace the current registration process. With the new system, preregistration will be replaced with early registration. Returning students may register during early registration and will not have to go through normal registration.

Students who complete early registration will be informed of how much money they owe the Business Office. If they do not pay on time, then their schedules will be deleted and they will have to complete normal registration.

Returning students who do not complete early registration or who do not pay their bills on time will have to go through normal registration with the new students. Normal registration will end in the Business Office, where students will pick up their completed class schedules.

There will be drop/add sessions for all students.

Some of the Senate members expressed concern over the number of classes that are closed or canceled. Classes are closed when the maximum number of students register for the course and no more students can be admitted. Classes are cancelled either because a professor is not available or because too few students register for the course.

The Registrar's Office tries to notify students of a closing or

STUDENTS PARTICIPATED IN A "DATING GAME" DURING HOMECOMING WEEK

Week spotlights alcohol abuse

N.C. Wesleyan students participated in the prevention of alcohol abuse by promoting "Alcohol Awareness Week" on campus during Oct. 15-21.

The week began on Sunday, Oct. 15, with Dr. Carleton McKita's chapel service entitled "Testing the spirits." On Monday, Doc's Happy Hour served mocktails to over 125 students.

Speaker Jerry Niece presented "Alcohol and You" to over 75 students in the Student Activities Center on Tuesday. This session focused on the effects of alcohol on the family and the workplace. Later that night, Charles Keel, a representative of Carolina distributors, presented "Your Alcohol IQ", a videotape packed with information.

Wednesday, Oct. 18, featured two events. The Booze Bowl was held in the cafeteria during lunch. Students, faculty and staff competed to answer two out of three alcohol information questions. Hardee's sandwich coupons, donated by Fast Food Merchandisers, were given to all winners.

A drawing for a N.C. Wesleyan sweatshirt was held from a pool of the 51 participants. Keith Bauer was the winner. To finish off the week of events, Laura Andreas of Holly Hill Hospital presented an alcohol awareness program in Nash and Edgecombe halls.

These activities coincided with similar student efforts nationwide during National Collegiate Alcohol awareness week. These events stressed education and the individual's ultimate responsibility in making well-informed, responsible decisions.

Now in its sixth year, the national campaign is sponsored by the Inter-Association Task Force on Alcohol and Other Substance Abuse Issues.

James Anderson and Barbara Demarest were named homecoming king and queen at the Homecoming dance held in the New Conference Center at the Rocky Mount Sheraton on the night of Oct. 7.

The dance was one of several Homecoming activities, which included a campus picnic, the Dating Game, comedienne Paula Poundstone, a concert featuring Sidewinder, and other events.

The 1989 Homecoming Court represents each class at Wesleyan and consists of 20 individuals.
