

Abortion forum airs pro-life view

(Continued from Front Page)

counsel women on abortion by giving other alternatives such as adoption and keeping their baby.

At the end of the forum the tape was shown depicting allegedly numerous abortions and the discarded unborn fetuses. The tape moved several audience members to tears. A question and answer session followed.

Many students attended the

Awards presented

(Continued from Front Page)

Outstanding Adult Degree Program Student Award, Rocky Mount — April Lane.

Outstanding Adult Degree Program Student Award, New Bern Branch — Carla Edwards.

Outstanding Adult Degree Program Student Award, Advantage Program — Donna Kaye Willis.

Student Life Organization Award — The Gospel Choir.

Sarah Alexander Tulloss Award — Matthew J. Snyder and Patrick G. Brannan.

Pilot Club Leadership and Service Award — Emonique D. Wooten.

James R. Hailey Leadership and Service Award — Julie L. Salkeld.

Religious Life Award — Francenia "Chynna" Bonner.

Nu Gamma Phi Professor of the Year Award — Cal Wynkoop.

forum ranging from Radical Pro-Lifers to Pro-Choice supporters. Some student Pro-Choicers attended the forum with signs protesting the lack of both sides of the abortion issue being represented, and voicing support for choice.

It is college policy to have both sides of an issue expressed in a college-sponsored event. The forum was brought to the college by ZOE Unlimited Christian Fellowship and NCWC College Republicans, with help from private individuals and organizations. One Pro-Chooser in attendance, Jessica Hause, said, "we are here to represent the other side. I do not condemn Pro-Lifers — I understand where they are coming from, but it is not fair not to present both sides of the issue."

Pro-Life student views ranged from the radical to traditional Pro-Life ideas. College Republican officer Ken Leonard takes a radical position, as defined by McHugh, believing "to kill either mother or child if the woman's life is in danger is wrong. Under no circumstance is killing the child necessary."

Brad Barnes said, "I really care about all those millions of babies dying ... I don't think of it as choosing — referring to a woman right to decide for or against abortion."

The forum was moderately attended by students, and poorly attended by staff and faculty.

STUDENTS HONORED — Judy Boyd (left) and Emonique Wooten receive, respectively, the President's Cup Award and the Algernon Sydney Sullivan Award from Wesleyan President Les Garner during the April 4 Honors Convocation. (Photo by Beth Sherrard.)

College does well on state level

(Continued from Front Page)

day of testing, not only of knowledge acquired but of grace under pressure. N.C. Wesleyan was one of the better chapters, winning both chapter commendations and individual awards.

Rho Alpha Psi received commendations for Meeting State Chapter Goals for Scholarship Fund Contributions, Meeting State Chapter Goals for National Building Fund Contributions, the 10th Anniversary Recognition Commendation, Largest Increase in Local Chapter Membership, and Largest Percentage of Increase in Local Chapter Membership.

At an Awards Banquet that night there was a distinct path from N.C. Wesleyan's table to the stage. The team of Lane, Bellamy, and Sage was fifth in Business Decision Making; Sage was fourth in Business Law; Bellamy took third in Computer Concepts; Chris Whitehead was seventh in Economics; Chris Brandt earned fifth in Job Interview; Draper was fourth in Management; and Lane was fourth in Marketing.

It was an exciting weekend, and one that some may get to repeat. The National Leadership Conference will take place in Washington, D.C., in July, and Chris Farmer has earned his place among the competitors.

Campus Security Log

March 26 — Vandalism. Two South students reported that someone vandalized their door by putting glue in the keyhole.

March 30 — Larceny. A money pouch containing $30 was removed from the library.

April 3 — Vandalism to automobile. A tire on a van belonging to Ferrum College was punctured while parked in front of Nash Dorm.

Anyone with information about any of the above crimes should contact Deborah Pittman at 985-5180.

Want to make it easy for a crook?

- Prop open that exterior self-locking door. You never know who may want to come in.
- Don't bother to lock your room when you leave for class.
- Save time. Leave all your money and jewelry out on the dresser, easy to find.
- Act like the Lone Ranger. Don't get to know the other people living near you.
- Advertise. Leave a note on the door to let everyone know that you're not there.
- Be generous. Share your keys, ID, and driver's license with the whole world.
- Leave your blinds open and lights on at night, so it's easy to see in.

SCREENPRINTING

TEAMS

SCHOOLS

FAMILY REUNIONS

CAPS

SHIRTS

& SWEATS

FAST TURN AROUND - 20 YRS EXPERIENCE

SHAMROCK - Enfield 445-2869