

Comedian Troy Thirdgill well received by audience

By SCOTT ROLFE

Comedian Troy Thirdgill received a warm welcome on Feb. 9 as more than 60 students, professors, and staff overflowed the seats in Doc's.

The event was sponsored by Campus Activities Board and Phi Beta Lambda.

Wesleyan student Matthew May commented "I enjoyed the show, but it was crowded in Doc's." Matt suggested the next time "The SAC may be more comfortable."

Troy Thirdgill is a comedian with four years of experience in show business. Thirdgill has made appearances on many premier shows including "Martin," "In Living Color," "An Evening at the Improv," "Comic View," and many others.

Thirdgill is in the process of developing his own show with CBS. Although the show is in the beginning stages Thirdgill was not able to give many details. He said to look for the show in the near future.

Review

Thirdgill's source of humor was very fresh, discussing topics such as the Bobbitt and Menendez cases as well as problems in his personal relationships. Other topics of interest included differences between the South and North, and the club scene.

After the show, which lasted about an hour, Thirdgill went out of his way to sign autographs and talk to all the students and faculty fans. CAB president Lionel Moad called the show "our most successful show of the year."

Thirdgill said that he enjoyed performing for Wesleyan but "it was weird performing in a cafeteria." Troy also said it was hard to be "politically correct" during his act, and sometimes hard to stay clean. Thirdgill was assured that his act was fine, and that Wesleyan students have probably heard worse in the dorms.

Before Troy departed he gave some advice for anyone interested in becoming a comedian. Troy said to "Take any stage time offered to you," and that "The one person who stood by him the most was himself."

Troy Thirdgill gave all that attended a little bit of humor, which is not always available in college life.

YO! Dudes and dudettes!

This is a list of study rooms set aside for your use. Keep this baby handy!

Quiet study areas are enforced for those who can only study in silence. Please do not use these areas in less you intend to honor the quiet code that is posted inside these rooms.

Pearsall: Room 272

Library: Desks on second floor

Desks beside reference section

Group study areas are supervised as well. Each group should maintain a reasonably quiet atmosphere to respect others who need quiet study, abiding by posted rules.

Pearsall: Room 279

Library: Tables beside periodical section

Table in Reading Room

Residence Halls: Study Rooms on first floor

If you have any questions or concerns regarding the study areas, please contact Sarah Shutt in the Student Services Center at 985-5259.

"We're looking for a few good people."

Are you interested in having fun, laughing a lot, and helping out, too? There is a space for you on the Campus Activities Board. We can always use help and input in the movie selections and activity selections. Also, it's a great way to have fun and meet others.

Take some time, think about getting involved in an organization where you can help choose the campus entertainment!

For more info, or if you'd like to join the Campus Activities Board (CAB), call Sue at 5227!

on Wesleyan

Student and Parent Orientation

Help the new first-year students make their transition to Wesleyan a success!

Be a Spotlight Leader!

Selection Criteria:

- *Academic performance
- *Leadership Ability
- *Personal Interviews
- *Recommendations

Applications Now Available in the Student Life Office

Applications due by February 21, 1994

For more information, contact Michael Sanseviro at 985-5256