many more. He was featured on "Stephen King's World of Horror," and has written many books including Grande Illusions.

"The Elephant Man," directed by Vaughn Schutz, will be performed at 8 p.m., running Feb. 17-19 and 24-26 in Coltrane Theatre. Tickets are $5 general admission. An exhibition of set design and drawings for the production will be on display in Coltrane Theatre's Little Gallery.

The final festivities will begin at 10:20 a.m. Friday with a roundtable discussion on "Art the

"The Charles K. Dunn, Jr., and Ineze Dunn Auditorium will bring a new dimension of culture to a large area," he added, "And all of our citizens will share in the pride we feel today for the Dunn family and the people of Guardian Corporation."

On hand for the announcement were three nephews of the Dunns and their families who live in Rocky Mount: Melvyn W. Elks, Joseph C. Dunn, and Leon A. Dunn Jr., who is a trustee of the college.

Born in Pamlico County, Dunn entered the world of business at the age of 15 when he opened a hotdog stand. He grew up in Ayden, and after serving in World War II, he settled down in Norfolk, Va., investing in Terminal Cars, Inc., a local taxi company that grew to be among the area's largest. Mrs. Dunn, also from Ayden, was very involved in the couple's business ventures.

Dunn and business partner Robert F. Anglin formed the first ambulance service in Norfolk — City Ambulance Service — in 1949, which Mrs. Dunn presided over and managed for 20 years. This ambulance business evolved into one of the larger convalescent care companies in the southeastern United States. They also formed A-D Surgical Supply Inc., of Norfolk, and rented all types of hospital equipment, including wheelchairs and beds, to hospitals and homes. Dunn was also instrumental in forming numerous businesses in the Norfolk area that were in real estate and armored transportation services.

It was through his heavy involvement in the health care industry that Dunn began to see a definite need for skilled convalescent care. His primary interest became the Guardian Corporation, a diversified company headquartered in Rocky Mount, which owned and operated nursing homes, campgrounds, and a land development company.

Guardian's first nursing home opened on Jan. 20, 1962, in the old Atlantic Coast Line Hospital in Rocky Mount. Before it was sold in the early 1980s, the company's Guardian Care division grew to 25 facilities with a capacity of more than 2,400 beds and 2,000 employees. It was the largest nursing home company in North Carolina at that time. Guardian now owns and operates 31 Hardee's restaurants in West Virginia, Ohio, and Pennsylvania.

After 31 years and several more dollars than his original $3,000 at stake, Dunn retired as chairman of the board of his largest and most successful venture, Guardian Corporation, in 1976 to his home on Lake Gaston near Littleton, and sold his interest in Guardian Corporation in 1981. He and Mrs. Dunn were married for almost 55 years. They had no children.

be that the voting will be held in the individual dorms this year. From 5:30 to 7 p.m. on election day voting tables will be in each dorm. This will make voting for resident students easier.

Changes will also be seen in the traditional day voting. The attempt to get more commuter votes and other student votes is also a major goal of Brandt's.

Other non-SGA offices will also be voted on at the same time. Look for more information as election time approaches.

Your Chance To Become Famous And (Kinda) Rich...

Are your creative juices flowing? Here's your chance to become famous (and kinda rich)! CAB needs help creating a T-shirt design for the 1994 Spring Fling shirt!

And yes, we are willing to make it worth your while!

We're looking for a clean, clever design for the T-shirt so students will "kill" to buy and wear it. It will be important that it lists the activities in a clever way, and that the theme ties into Spring Fling!

You will need to submit your artistic contributions to Sue McCormack in the SAC by March 1. $50 will go to the winner! Be sure you show the front pocket design on a separate page from the back design.

Have questions?? Please call Sue McCormack at 5227!
