

AMCO NEWS

C677.1
A21

Vol. XXIV No. 2

Adams-Millis Corporation

May-June, 1973

HOSIERY PLANTS RECEIVE ACHIEVEMENT AWARDS

SAFETY CERTIFICATES

W. C. Creel, center, Commissioner of Labor for North Carolina, presented Certificates of Safety Achievement to representatives of the Hosiery Division. Left to right are: J. W. Snotherly, main office; W. G. Jones, machine shop; Commissioner Creel; Claude Eddinger, Plant 7, Ladies' Hosiery Division; and Gaston Hodges, Mt. Airy plant, Men's and Boys' Division.

The machine shop, main office and the Mt. Airy plant operated the year of 1972 without a lost-time accident. Plant 7 was cited for having made a significant reduction in accident frequency for the year.

Commissioner Creel also presented the Certificate of Safety Achievement to the Haw River plant of the Fabrics Division for working the year 1972 without a lost-time injury.

According to Commissioner Creel, North Carolina has a comparatively low Disabling Injury Frequency Rate (8.2 lost-time accidents per million man-hours), compared with the much higher national rate (15.4 lost-time accidents per million man-hours). The 1972 rate for all divisions of Adams-Millis was 8.3. The Hosiery Division had the lowest rate with the frequency of 5.0

(Continued on page 13)

SEARS EXCELLENCE AWARD

For the eighth consecutive year, Adams-Millis Hosiery Company has been awarded the Sears, Roebuck and Company Symbol of Excellence. Shown with the award are D. G. Lindner, left, president of Adams-Millis Hosiery Company, and R. L. Boyles, right, vice-president in charge of manufacturing and production for the Men's and Boys' Division. The Sears, Roebuck and Company Symbol of Excellence, is presented annually to those suppliers who qualify for excellence in quality, service and delivery. Of the 240 suppliers in Sears Department 640, boys' furnishings, Adams-Millis Hosiery Company is one of two companies who have received the award for each of the eight years the awards have been presented.

