

HUDSON NEWCOMERS — The newcomers at Hudson, from left to right, are: Frances Newton, Louise Efird, Annie Lou Jenkins, Gladis Keene, and Betty Inman, all of ladies' dungaree; Pearl Walker and Shirley Burress, office; Lucile Johnson, dungaree; Ethel Norris, overall and boxer; Pearl Brame and Lola Davis, ladies' dungaree.

DUNGAREE—

(Continued from Page Five)
 sympathy to Carlene and her family.

Hazel York, with family and friends, spent the week end at Ocean Drive fishing.

Nina Martin's daughter and son-in-law, Anne and Jerry, visited her for the week end. They are from Wallace.

Ola Moran and son, Joe, went to Stokes County to visit her sister for the week end.

After five long weeks and one day, yours truly's ship made port. With it came Rodney Rogers, my sailor friend. Say girls, have you ever seen a cuter moustache? He's gonna be all mine, too!

Ina Venable's father-in-law, J. R. Venable from Route 2, Dobson, visited her for two weeks.

Onie Hayes had company from Durham last Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Hayes and family.

Ina Holland's son, John, has been in the Rex Hospital in Raleigh for an operation. We are glad to hear he is out and getting along fine.

Leona Caudill and Mac, her husband, spent last week end in North Wilkesboro with her father.

Flash! Especially for anyone living on the Winston-Salem Highway who has been hearing something go by several times a week that sounds like a jet plane. Don't be alarmed! It is only Willie Singleton (our bundle boy) and his Ford on their way to Winston-Salem on one of Willie's big dates. Watch those road signs, Willie.

We are sorry to hear that Claudine Vestal's mother has been in the hospital at Elkin. We hope she will soon recover.

Mary Ashby and family spent last week at Gastonia.

Vera Tuttle's stepson, C. H., is home for three weeks.

Laura Hopkins was given a surprise birthday dinner on September 23.

We all miss Ila Luther who has been out several weeks due to a fractured arm. Hurry back, Ila, we sure miss you!

We want to welcome Lucile Johnson.

guests her mother from Winston-Salem.

Arlene Felts had as a week end guest her aunt from Washington, D. C.

Musatta Halsey spent Thursday night with relatives in Galax.

Ruby Paisley and her husband, John, celebrated their 21st wedding anniversary on September 19.

Mona Bedwell's husband, James, who works in Winston-Salem, spent the week end at home.

Edith Chandler visited Mrs. Jessie Steele in Marion, Va., Sunday.

Visiting in the home of June Ward last week were Mr. and Mrs. Jim Reeves and daughter, Brenda, of Harlington, Texas.

We are glad to hear that Lorine Snow's husband, Bill, is home from the hospital and feeling better.

We want to welcome Zella Wagg as a new member of our plant.

The hunting season has opened in Virginia. Seems as if everyone is hunting squirrels but we are wondering what's happened to James Boyer and his hunting trips on Saturdays.

Everyone in upper Grayson County has been on the lookout for mad dogs and convicts. Two dogs have gone mad recently and have had to be killed. Also, two convicts have escaped from prison and are still at large.

Shirt at White

By Ruby Walker

The Shirt Department has started a bowling team this year. They will practice Tuesday night. Members are: Bertha Ferguson, Mildred Rickard, Louise Lester, Edna Kirk, Katie Sellers, Louise Farrington, and Peggy Whitt.

Ruth Cooper wishes to thank everyone for their love offerings while she was sick.

Cecil and Mary Hamilton were honored at their home in Archdale Sunday, September 12, with an open house. It was given by the couple's only daughter, Juanita, to celebrate their silver wedding anniversary. The Hamiltons also had as guests the following Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Honde-shell, from Callender, Iowa.

(Continued on Page Seven)

Independence

By Etta Rose
 Jones

We have had a slight change in the weather here at Independence. Better hurry up those picnics, because Fall is creeping upon us.

Joan Anders enjoyed the beautiful mountain scenery while picnicing on White Top last Sunday.

Inez Boyer visited her mother, Mrs. Agnes Collins, on Sunday.

Grace Woodell had as Sunday guests her son, Edward, and his family from Sparta.

Madge Waddell had as dinner

BIG BOY — This happy and healthy looking fellow is Ricky Ray, 10-month-old son of Myrtle Loflin of the ladies' dungaree department.

BRIDES — Recent brides at the Independence plant are Juanita Hodge Bowman, left, and Frances Osborne Wheatley.