Sales Department Makes Appointments

Three new faces are appearing in the Sales Division this month with Elton L. Boggan becoming Sales Manager for Tractor Brand and Milton Shilling and Ed V. Wood, two new salesmen. Shilling will represent Tractor Brand and Wood, Anvil Brand.

Boggan, who comes to High Point from St. Albans, W. Va., has had a wide experience in selling. His former associations include Robert, Johnson and Rand Shoe Co. and Kennedy, Shey and Chandler Co., Inc., wholesalers of dry goods.

and his wife, Dorothy, have three children including Cary, 13, Robert, 9 and Betsy, 6. Boggan is expected in High Point the last of this month and will move his family here before school opens in the Fall.

Shilling is taking over a portion of a territory already covered by Tractor and also will open some new areas in Southern New Jersey, Maryland, Washington, D. C. and Eastern Virginia. He presently is living in Philadelphia.

He brings a wide background of selling to his new job including work in shirts, ladies' and sports wear. He comes to Tractor from Skyline Sports Wear of Philadelphia.

Shilling is a graduate of St. John's University in New York and a veteran of three years with the U. S. Coast Guard. He is married and has two children, Barbara, 9 and Spencer, 4 1-2.

Ed V. Wood is taking over the Southern Georgia territory, which he is thoroughly familiar with, having had extensive experience in selling this area. His former associations include Dougherty, Little, Redwine, a wholesale firm and Tuf-Nut Mfg. Co., which makes work clothes.

Wood is married and the father of three children, Pvt. Ed Wood, in the U. S. Army in Bamberg, Germany; Ronnie, who is a 12th grade student; and Jane, who is in the ninth grade.

Talking about progressive education, we're told about the schoolmarm in South Georgia who received a note from anxious parents: "You must not whack Tommy." the note read. "He is frail and delicate. We never hit him at home except in self-defense."

"Every girl looks for her dream man. In the meantime, though, she gets married." — Margaret Puchir.

"This is from your friendly used-cow dealer." —A note from the milkman.

Wrote an eminent English journalist, back home after visiting the U. S.: "Whether it's bulldozing roads in Korea, or breeding pigs in Illinois, or making gadgets for removing ice cubes from refrigerators, the American people are alive, alert, curious, combative—and rarin' to go!"

Independence: Mary Lou Bonham, Audra Edwards, Musetta Haley, Agnes Harrington, Carol Osborne, Della Rose Ray and William Lee Wright.

We in America perfected the world of machines—and it was rapid perfection. Only 50 years ago about half of the work in our country was done by animals and men. Today, mechanical power does virtually the whole job, and yet we have been hitting new peaks in total employment.

Then there's the story about the two "sidewalk superintendents" who stood watching a big bulldozer at work. With each bite, it lifted great chunks of earth.

"If it weren't for that scoop," one complained, "a hundred men might be working with shovels."

"Yes," agreed the other, "or ten thousand—with spoons!"

Terse, but true. We Americans never believe in doing anything by hand that we can get machines to help us do—thus extending our own strength and energy 20-fold, and contributing immensely to our progress, through productivity.

Lucky people building them or having them built, will boost the swimming pool business gross to an estimated record of $325,000 this year.

FAITH

When you take each new day
As a gift from above,
To enjoy ev'ry way
To make fullest use of,
And let go of the past
Its mistakes and its grief,
To the PRESENT hold fast;
You'll affirm your belief
In the future—the way
Of God's plan and His love—
When you take each new day
As a gift, from above.

—Carl C. Helm
