

BRIDAL COUPLE — Don Morgan and Bessie Severt cut their wedding cake following their wedding June 30 at the home of Bessie's sister. The ceremony was at 4 p. m. and after a wedding trip to the mountains, the couple now are at home at 807 Morris Street.

Four Join Young Industrial Club

Four young men from Anvil Brand have joined the Young Men's Industrial Club, a local group which includes men in training for supervisory positions.

The club meets every other Thursday night and hears speakers and has workshop sessions on various phases of industrial supervision.

Since the Anvil Brand members have been attending, the club has been studying human relations. Anvil Brand members include Bill Thomas of Printing, Frank Starrett of Cutting, Bill Roach of Maintenance and Jerry Talley of Payroll.

Newell Couple Married 25 Years

Leola Jester Newell, training supervisor at Sherrod, and her husband, Solomon Melvin Newell, Jr., will celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary August 1.

Leola has been with Sherrod since 1928. Her husband is with Globe Parlor and their daughter is employed in Alderman Studios.

Leola says they haven't made any special plans to celebrate, but may "arrange something" for the event.

Hello, after a long time, from Sherrod. So very nice to be with you again. I have really missed this little meeting every month.

We miss Frank McCulloch since he left us but welcome Charles Isenhour and of course, "Curly" can't be beat. We couldn't make it without him.

Edith English is in the hospital . . . Freida Pope has a new granddaughter . . . Elsie Wilkes has a new grandson, as do Famie Kinsey and Ethel Parrish. Congratulations to the happy gran-nies!

By the way, Famie Kinsey says don't let Rona Comer kid you about not liking the opposite sex. Famie says Rona was seen in Stewart, Va., with, not one, but two. Atta girl, Rona!

Treva Mock and Grace Bundy attended a wheat threshing. Now there's the place to get a good feed . . . Etta Skeen went to the horse show in Kernersville and blistered her back, but enjoyed the show. Etta's daughter from Flint, Mich., visited her recently.

Suppose everybody enjoyed their vacation. I stayed home but enjoyed being with the baby so much I didn't miss the trip we usually take. Lots of folks enjoyed the beaches, among them Freida Pope who visited Virginia Beach, Ocean View and Richmond, Va. Beatrice Proctor also went to Virginia Beach and to Norfolk and Roanoke. Beatrice's daughter was home before leaving for Alaska . . . Evelyn Miller and her family went to Virginia Beach, too, and also had a guest during the week from West Palm Beach, Florida . . . Kathleen Mitchell and family went to Myrtle Beach . . . Leola Newell and family spent the week at Myrtle Beach, too. (Nice tan, Leola).

Lizzie Everhart went a "fur piece" for her vacation — New York, Baltimore and Washington. She reports a grand trip.

Mary Snyder says she didn't do much for vacation but relax and enjoy herself . . . Wanda Craven visited in Mocksville . . . Mary Ridge toured the Luray Caverns in Virginia . . . Hattie Bizzell went to see her sister in Reidsville . . . Kate Bryant spent the week in Winston-Salem . . . Claressie Stamey visited her mother and attended a reunion — another good place to eat up something . . . Beulah Davis went to Ohio and had a grand trip.

Maude and Doris Bizzell have a new niece. They're tickled pink . . . Janie Rhodes had her brother with her from Bel Air, Md. She also went to Baltimore while she was vacationing . . . Jennie Owens went on a camping trip to Doughton Park. She also said a lot of "kin folk" came a-calling and she never did see so many dishes to wash . . . Mary Griffin's daughter from Calif., was home as was Pearl Freeman's daughter from Maryland . . . Velna Johnson's son and family were home from New Jersey.

Welcome back to a good old gal, Bonnie McKinney and until next time, Good luck and Good News!
