

BRIGHT EYES—Lee Marshburn is the 18 months-old son of Iva Jean Marshburn of White Division. Iva Jean has been with the company four months and presses pockets.

Some reformers are like disinfectants—they simply swap one bad odor for another.

The average man on the street is more apt to give heat than light to an argument.

SAFETY SCORE BOARDS WILL CHANGE -- Employees in the Cutting Department at Hudson look at their Safety Board which shows they have a perfect record with no lost-time accidents marked against them. Beginning the first of the year the number of days recorded on these boards will be based on a "365-day year." As of now the boards are kept on a "working days" record, which exclude Saturdays and Sundays and other non-working days. Under the new method each day will be figured in the department's record so that a clearer picture of the year's record may be shown. Left to right are: John Jenkins, Earl Byerly, Clyde Nelson, supervisor in Cutting; Henry Smith, Ruth Watlington and George Goins.

Some folks think they are charitable because they give advice.

Three Departments Have Accident-Free Month

Three departments came up with perfect accident records for the month of October and Ossie Wright commended them for the report. The departments included Independence, Sport Shirt and Overall.

Three departments came up with perfect accident records for the month of October and Ossie Wright commended them for the report. The departments included Independence, Sport Shirt and Overall.

Seven Departments were given grades of 100 when the new safety inspectors made their first inspections in October. They included Maintenance, Engineering, Sales, Cutting, Sherrod Pattern, Sherrod Cutting and Pants Two.

Shipping received the lowest score in the inspection with a grade of 86 due to bottles on the floor.

Mr. Reitzel Morgan met with the Safety Committee last week and reiterated that management is ready to assist in the Safety Program in any way possible.

An announcement that a railing has been placed around the entrance porch at Sport Shirt Department, was made and also that rest rooms are to be painted.

Dora Byerly, inspector in Sport Shirt, reported she brought brushes to the operators whose work is joining shoulders in Sport Shirt, for cleaning their machines. She said they all gave their machines a thorough cleaning and now have no trouble in keeping the machines clean on a day-to-day basis.

BORN ON SPOOK'S DAY -- Betty Bell doesn't seem one bit disturbed that she's celebrating her birthday on Halloween. In fact, she's got a lot to be pleased about, such as that lovely orchid corsage, which was a gift from Mabel Flynt and Jewel Jones. Her co-workers presented her with a nylon robe and she received a pair of gloves from Ludie Mae Ingram, a jewelry box from Judy Hendren, lingerie from Mildred Reese and a bottle of cologne from Edna Worrell. Betty said she couldn't imagine a nicer 26th birthday.

A SWEETIE—Jauanna Hooker is a bundle of sweetness as she poses for the photographer. Her dad is Johnny Hooker of Shipping and Pat, the proud mama, is on leave from Ladies Dept.