

SEW IT SEAMS

(Registered with U. S. Patent Office)

Volume VII

HIGH POINT, NORTH CAROLINA, DECEMBER, 1956,

No. 18

DIRECT LINE TO SANTA CLAUS — With Christmas just around the corner a group of Anvil Branders decided about the best thing they could do for their fellow employees was to be sure that Santa Claus found out just what they wanted for Christmas. So one day recently eight persons took time during their lunch hour to pay a visit to the gentleman and told him what they and their friends would like most for him to leave in their stocking.

Judging from the smiles on the faces seen here, Mr. Claus must have said he believed he can fill the stockings this year with just what everybody wants. Here's hoping he does, anyway! From left to right above are Jo Ann Edward of Utility, Dot Mauldin of Sales Office, Betty Brewer of Finishing, Darlene Spaugh of Ladies, Mr. Claus, Shirley Kennedy of Hudson Office, Lystra Workman of Sport Shirt and Wayne Veach of Shipping.