

Fashions And Fads

By BARBARA BROADNAX

Rising Hem Line

Girls, don't get frustrated about the hem lines. They will only be raised an inch, or one and a half inches at the most. Since none of us wear our skirts exactly the same length, this new variation will make little difference. Also, the skirts will remain narrow for the Spring season, and suit coats are being worn fitted, with accentuated collars.

Pink—Green—Blue Furs

Tinted furs are the latest things is fads for fems. The delicate pastel shades of mint green and ice blue are playing downstage, especially for evening wear.

The modern trend tells us that red and pink no longer are unharmonious colors. On the contrary, these, and many other color combinations were once considered odd, are being currently accepted as the most chic.

Shoes For Wide Feet

It seems as though the shoemakers are giving more consideration to the damsels with the wider feet. The newest styles are long and narrow looking with the very pronounced point at the toe. These shoes are also being manufactured in complimentary color combinations.

Tips For Men

The newest fads for men seems to be the permanently pleated neck-tie. According to some of our outstanding fashion experts, this fad will be sweeping the campuses very soon, so you fellows had better stake out your claim to better dress.

Roving Reporter, Betty Reddings, Asks—

"What is your reaction to an Open Shelf Reserve?"

William Fisher, New York City: "I don't like the idea. Someone would be unfair by taking a book and keeping it so long that another student wouldn't get a chance to use it."

Reginald Spanliding, Durham: "I would prefer making a slip and letting one of the librarians get the book instead of having to waste time looking for the book myself. I never was much good at keeping up with the classification system."

Ernestine Pratt, Durham: "I like the idea, it would save time if one were able to take a book straight from the shelf instead of having to stand in line at the desk waiting. However, I wonder how honest the students would be about returning the books."

James Jordan, Oxford: "I think that it is a very good idea. It not only saves time, but it also gives one a wider selection of books from which to choose."

Gladys Macon, Henderson: "It's a nice idea. I wonder, however, how fair the students would be about returning the books for the benefit of the other students."

Student Of The Month

By MARJORIE TAYLOR and IONA CRAWFORD

A gentleman of versatility, scholarship, and leadership ability occupies the position of Student of the Month for this issue. William Earl Payton, a native of Greenville, North Carolina, has merited this citation through his outstanding academic record and his participation in a number of campus activities.

"Payton," as he is known to most of the NCC students, is a graduate of Eppes High School in Greenville, where he participated in Student Government activities, and was a member of the Dramatics Club. He finished his secondary education in 1950, ranking fourth highest in his class.

Since our Student of the Month has been at North Carolina College, his name has been associated with many noteworthy organizations. He has been active in the YMCA, Intercollegiate Council, Men's Dormitory Council, and the Sunday School. Payton is a member of Beta Kappa Chi Honorary Society, the Pan-Hellenic Council, Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities, and is Basileus of the Omega Psi Phi Fraternity.

"Payton" is a biology major with aspirations toward dental school. He is a candidate for graduation in 1954.

Rush Hall Will Present Pre-Valentine Dance

Rush Hall women are making plans for their Winter Formal, which will take place on Friday evening. The affair will begin at 8:30.

A Valentine decoration will be used in providing atmosphere for this annual formal, and music will be furnished by Mr. Cardoza McCollum, who will also do the decorating. According to Rush Hall officials, this affair will be strictly invitational.

In addition to dancing, guests will enjoy refreshments, which will include heart shaped cookies and punch. There will also be souvenirs-hats, whistles and balloons.

Last Rites For Mrs. Taylor Held Wednesday

Funeral services for Mrs. Gertrude Taylor, wife of James T. Taylor, professor of psychology, were held last Wednesday at the St. Titus Episcopal Church, Rev. Fred Hunter officiating.

She was once supervisor of Durham County Negro Schools and more recently a teacher at the Little River High School in Durham County. She was formerly president of the N. C. Teachers' Association and active in many phases of political life of the community.

Library Exhibit Features Eagle Cage Squad

A unique exhibit entitled "Know Your Team" is now on display in the Library. The exhibit features photographs of the members of the NCC basketball team. The photographs depict the players in campus activities.

Mr. James E. Parker, director of Audio-Visual Aids, stated that this is the second in a series of educational exhibits designed to stimulate interests, to increase knowledge, to influence attitudes and to encourage decision and action. This exhibit, he said, is aimed at developing an appreciation of the basketball players as individuals.
