

Tuition Increase Set For '61-'62 Term

NET INCREASES TOTAL 28 DOLLARS

Six Campaign For SG Offices

Six persons have announced their candidacy for offices in the Student Government. They are Augustus Davis, Wilbur Hankins for president and Nathaniel Morehead, Lynwood Walker, John Avent, James McLeor for vice-president.

Augustus Davis, Jr. is a junior biology major and social science minor. He is from Wilson. President of Chidley Hall, Davis is the only person to serve on the Student Welfare Committee from the Sophomore Class. He is a second-year member of the Committee. Davis, who is outspoken, is responsible for the Sunday menu being changed from chicken to every Sunday. He also went to the President and Student Welfare Committee so that the talent shows could be resumed.

Hankins, a junior mathematics major, is from Wilmington. He has a minor in chemistry. He is parliamentarian of his fraternity, vice-president of the Newman Club, and holds membership in several others.

Vice-Presidential Candidates

Nathaniel Morehead, a sophomore, has a major in biology and a minor in chemistry and mathematics. He is from High Point. He is a member of the SG, Band, Shark Club, NAACP, and Omega Psi Phi Fraternity.

Lynwood Walker, also a sophomore, is a psychology major and has a double minor in English and biology. He is from Fayetteville. He is a member of the NAACP, the Psychology Club, and the Social Science Club.

John Avent of Nashville and James McLeor could not be reached for comment.

Candidates for Miss NCC

Rose Tate and Mary Alice Williamson are seeking the vote for The Miss NCC title.

Miss Tate, a junior commerce major and education minor, is from Morganton. She is a member of the NAACP, Anti-Basileus of the Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, has been a House Council member for two years and is a past member of the C. T. Willis Commerce Club. The former "Miss Olive Hill High School" queen had this to say about the election: "If I should win such a coveted title, I pledge myself to respect it and bear it forever with dignity and pride."

Mary Williamson, a junior music major, is a native of Clinton. Petite and flashing a winsome smile, Mary expressed her desire to win.

She is a member of the NAACP, Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, the College Choir and Band. Miss Williamson, who will study in Quebec City, Canada this summer, expects to have accumulated enough hours in French for a double major.

THOMAS HENDERSON

May Awards Day Speaker Named

President Thomas H. Henderson of Virginia Union University has been named keynote speaker for the annual observance of Awards Day at North Carolina College. Some 300 NCC students will be honored for outstanding curricular and extra-curricular activities in a day-long celebration on May 12. Dr. Henderson's address will represent the highlight of a series of events, including assemblies, installation ceremonies, and an honor dance.

Dr. Norman Johnson, chairman of the Awards Day Committee, said here today that the College's emphasis on achievement emphasizes "our concern for all-around excellence in the pursuit of quality education." One of the features of the celebration will be the awarding of a Hamilton Watch to the person, chosen as the "most outstanding student" at NCC.

Dr. Henderson, who succeeded Dr. Samuel DeWitt Proctor as president of Virginia Union last July, is a graduate of that institution. He holds master's and doctorate degrees from the University of Chicago.

A native of Newport News and the son of a minister, Dr. Henderson taught at Armstrong High School in Richmond from 1928 until 1941, when he became dean of the college at Virginia Union University. He was also professor of psychology and education until elevated to the presidency in 1960.

His community activities include membership in the Urban League and the Virginia Council on Human Relations, both of which groups he serves as chairman. He is also a member of the Richmond Public Welfare Board and of the Board of Directors of the Richmond Area United Givers Fund. Dr. Henderson is a former president of the Central-Intercollegiate Athletic Association.

The talk about an increase in tuition costs for 1961-62 has been confirmed. The bursar's office issued the formal statement last week which showed a $20.00 hike in tuition for the fall session.

The only additional change was in room rent which will be upped $9.00. The raise here will be added to the monthly bills making them $48.00 instead of $47.00.

These changes which will make the cost of education at NCC higher than ever before, will also mark the first raise in tuition since 1954. In the fall of '54, tuition was hiked from $97.00 to $130.00.

These are the figures for '61:

Tuition	$150.00
Registration	20.00

Athletic fee	10.00
Library	10.00
Lyceum	5.00
Medical fee	17.00
Student activity	10.00
Board	275.00
Room	119.00
Total	$616.50

Tuition last year was $130.50 and room, $110.00. The added increase is $28.50.

No official reason has been given for the raised fees; however, the business office did report that building projects were not allowed for in the budget.

For out-of-state students, the raise, slightly less, is from $203.00 to $222.50.

No change was made in the fees for out-of-state non-boarding students.

Presidential Aide Here For Law Day

Frank D. Reeves, special assistant to President John F. Kennedy, will be the guest speaker for Law Day, May 1. This will mark the fourth annual Law Day celebration.

The theme for the celebration is "The Rule of Law—An Instrument of World Peace." According to Law Day officials, the purposes of the event is to give people an appreciation for the Bill of Rights, and the Constitution of the United States, and to dramatize the contrast between government under the rule of law and totalitarianism under communism.

The speaker, Reeves, will be welcomed at the Raleigh-Durham airport at 8:30 a.m. Monday, May 1, by a Law School delegation. The group will then return to the campus for a coffee hour at 9:00.

Attorney Reeves will deliver the main address in B. N. Duke Auditorium at 10:30 P.M. Music will be furnished by the College Choir. Other activities include a luncheon at 1:00 P.M. in the dining hall and a weiner roast at the home of Professor L. De-Jarman.

A press conference slated at 11:30 p.m. will be held in the Moot Court of the Law School Building. Members of the Law School and special invited persons will face questions posed by students and interested persons about the functions and purposes of law.

NCC Professor Named Speaker At Academy

Dr. James S. Lee, professor and chairman of the Department of Biology at North Carolina College, will be the principal speaker in the science education section of the Minnesota Academy of Science's annual meeting Friday, May 5, in Northfield, Minn.

Dr. Lee will speak on "The Role of Imagination and Speculation in Science" in the meeting, which will be held on the campus of St. Olaf College.

While in Minnesota, Dr. Lee will also address the Junior Academy of Science, consisting of outstanding Minnesota high school students competing in the annual State Fair, and will lecture to science students at St. Olaf and Carleton Colleges as "distinguished visiting biologist."

Dr. Lee's visit to Northfield is being sponsored by the American Institute of Biological Sciences. In addition to his address before the Minnesota Academy of Science, he will give lectures on certain aspects of his recent work with the bacterial nucleus. He will also conduct seminars centered around general problems in microbiology.

The North Carolina College professor is currently a member of a team of distinguished biologists giving lectures throughout the country under the auspices of the American Institute of Biological Sciences.

He recently returned from Winona, Minn., where he lectured to students at St. Mary's and Thetresa Colleges.

Dr. Lee was elected by his colleagues last week as the "outstanding professor" at North Carolina College. He will receive the coveted James E. Shepard Memorial Hamilton Watch Award in token of this distinction at Awards Day ceremonies on May 12

The April 24 lyceum presentation is a Sinfonietta under the direction of Paul Schreiber, announced Dr. Robert John, head of the music department. Starting time is 8:15 P.M.

Utilizing all of the instruments of the orchestra, Schreiber organized the Sinfonietta in 1937. The small orchestra proposes to give the audience "a new experience in symphonic music."

The St. Louis Sinfonietta has received wide acclaim from coast to coast for its delicate balance and artistry.

Gibson Named To Labor Dept.

Samuel Gibson, NCC graduate student, was welcomed by Arthur Goldberg in Washington, on his appointment to the Labor Department last week. Gibson, who was hired as a personnel assistant will make upwards of $5,000.00.

Arthur Goldberg, chairman of the Department of Labor said the appointment represented the first results of a Labor tour to present more jobs to Southern Negroes.

Samuel Gibson graduated in 1958 with a major in economics. He has attended the Howard (continued on page 3)
