Coach Says

NCC TO WIN CIAA TENNIS CHAMPIONSHIP

"We're going to end up visitation champions," is the confident prediction of James Younge of the North Carolina College Eagles as he eyes the CIAA tennis tournament scheduled for May 14-16 at Hampton, Va.

Younge's netmen have won 11 of the 12 matches they've participated in this season, losing only to the Hampton Institute Pirates, with whom they are tied for first place. Hampton has lost once to the Johnson C. Smith's Golden Bulls, who have in turn lost to the Eagles.

Joe Williams, the top-seeded member of the Eagles, continues to add to his unbeaten record and now lists 46 individual victories to his credit in three seasons.

The NCC netters, whose last victory was over Johnson C. Smith University Friday, will meet the Winston-Salem State College squad in Durham Thursday, May 7.

NCC TROUNCES A & T

North Carolina College's Eagles swept every set in trouncing the A & T College Aggies 6-0 in a tennis meet in Durham early this month.

The victory was the third for the season in as many starts for the 1962 and 1963 CIAA champions, who earlier defeated Livingstone and Fayetteville colleges.

The summary:
