

CHARLES DAYE HAILED 'EAGLE OF THE MONTH'

By Christyal Brown

Chosen as the "Eagle of the Month" for September is a leader, a politician, businessman, and an ardent lover of sports—Charles Edward Daye. A native of Durham, Daye graduated with honors from Merrick-Moore High School. Before graduating, however, Daye served as president of the Student Council, president of the Association of North Carolina Library Clubs, and governor of Boy's State.

Presently, Daye, is a senior political science major at North Carolina College. Running for president of his freshman class, started him up his political ladder. Defeated in his bid for the presidency of the freshman class, he has won many rounds since then and he now holds the highest political office attainable—the presidency of the Student Government Association.

During his leisure time, Daye likes to write poetry, read, bowl, swim, and play badminton. The 21-year-old young man is the eldest of seven children. A persistent rumor is that he practices his oratory on his five younger sisters and brother.

During the past summer,

Daye worked in the State Department as an intern with the Office of Malaysian Affairs which is one of the branches of the Bureau of Southwest-Pacific Affairs. He has visited many Asian countries, including Japan, China, and India.

His next goal? You guessed it—the White House.

Wisconsin Two

This exchange was arranged by Dr. Lon W. Weber, director of the Marinette County Center, and Dr. C. L. Patterson, chairman of the Wisconsin Liaison Committee at N. C. C. This is the first such student exchange by Wisconsin students.

On April 30, members of the Wisconsin Student Association spent ten days visiting three predominantly Negro colleges in North Carolina, but to date no students have spent an entire semester in an exchange.

Freshmen Speak

QUESTION—Why did you choose to come to N. C. C.?

Charles C. Parker
Washington, D. C.

"I chose NCC mainly because of the great skills I may acquire from my field of study and the good relationships between students and teachers. I feel that by my coming here I'll strengthen my foundation of knowledge and will be able to handle any situation that may confront me."

—O—

John H. Witener
Washington, D. C.

"The reason I chose North Carolina College is to seek the things that I may need to help me in my major and to further my education, so that I can adjust successfully in the years to come."

—O—

Rodney Moon Cooper
New Jersey

"I chose North Carolina College because I wanted to obtain a higher education. I feel you must get to know your surroundings and acquire what they have to offer."

—O—

Ricardio Samuda,
Brooklyn, New York

"North Carolina College is known as one of the best Negro colleges. Since I am a Physical Education major, I felt this was my best choice to enrich my studies. Secondly, I came because of Coach L. T. Walker. He is known as one of the best track coaches in the United States and I preferred him as my head track coach."

—O—

Pat Washington
Fayetteville, N. C.

"I chose to come to NCC for many reasons. I was greatly influenced by many people on this campus, and I think that it is a beautiful place."

—O—

Iva Byrd
Shelby, N. C.

"I chose to come to NCC to major in Library Science. After getting here, I've decided to change my major field. Instead of being a Library Science major, I will minor in it. I think that NCC has one of the best Library Science Departments in the state."

—O—

Valerie Weeks
Elizabeth City, N. C.

"I chose NCC because of its convenience. I was also influenced by friends who attend college here."

—O—

Grace Senkler
Shelby, N. C.

"I chose NCC because of its location. Most schools are located in out-of-the-way spots, but NCC is right in the heart of Durham."

—O—

Kay Cannon
Lawnside, N. J.

"I chose to come to NCC because I either had to go to work or to school. Instead of working I chose NCC. My major is Art and I've been told that NCC has an excellent Art Department."

—O—

Norma Childess
Kings Mountain, N. C.

"I chose to come to NCC because I've been told that the Music Department is very good. I was influenced greatly by my friends here."

—O—

John Brewer
High Point, N. C.

"I consider NCC a very good school of a middle academic status. Though it wasn't my first choice, I consider it a very good substitute."

study area that is free from distractions to make study a primary part of college life.

If such things as a lackadaisical attitude and poor study habits are eliminated early in school, many of the students who end up on academic probation would not be there.

Instead of saying "Oh, what's the use of studying?" and doing something that is more entertaining, try facing up to the problem with interest and determination.

Campus Pulse

be we'll run over to Annie Day and wash them quickly! Oh! Oh! what about the boys though? Well, then, maybe we'd better try the Administration Building. But then there's that climbing of stairs to the second floor and as you must open a door to enter the rest room you must do likewise upon leaving. (What place can one find more filth than on a rest room door knob?)

Oh, and then upon returning to your place in the cafeteria, you find that (if your colleagues respected your claim on your tray) you have guests for dinner. Who else but the ever-present N. C. C. flies. You know, I heard that the Eagle was the animated symbol of this institution but I'm beginning to wonder ! ! !

Oh well, just thought I mention it.

Student Officers

Daye continued, "Also we shall organize official Student Government bodies so that all students who desire to help us can do so."

William Royster
Durham, N. C.

"I chose NCC because it's the least expensive and closest to home."

—O—

Edward Williams
White Plains, N. Y.

"I chose to come to NCC mainly out of curiosity as to how a good Negro school is run in comparison to a predominantly white school."

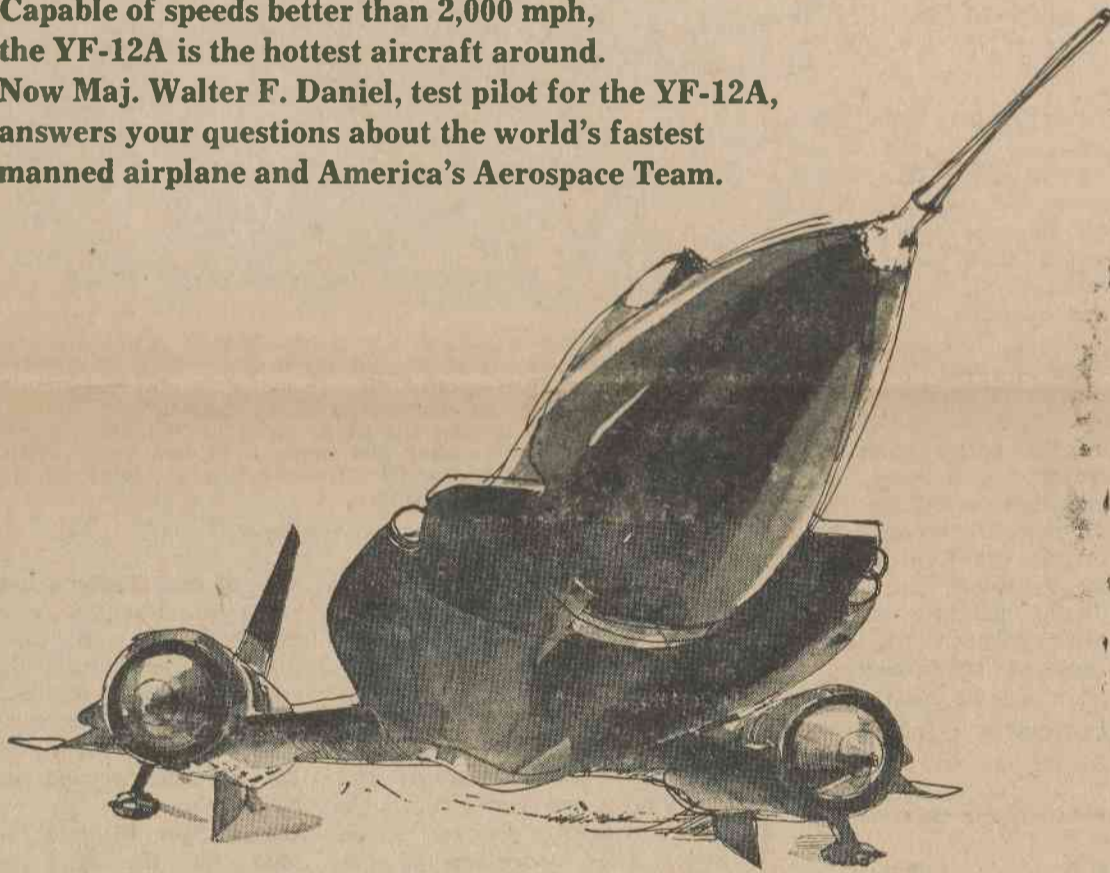

—O—

Glenwood Jordan
Powellsville, N. C.

"I chose NCC because I think the college offers the courses I need."

Capable of speeds better than 2,000 mph, the YF-12A is the hottest aircraft around. Now Maj. Walter F. Daniel, test pilot for the YF-12A, answers your questions about the world's fastest manned airplane and America's Aerospace Team.

(Maj. Daniel, a test pilot since 1954, is a member of the Society of Experimental Test Pilots. He received a B.S. degree in Aeronautical Engineering from the University of Oklahoma. In February 1962, he set world class time-to-climb records in a T-38 jet trainer.)

Is the YF-12A the world's fastest manned aircraft?

It certainly is. On May 1 of this year the YF-12A (formerly known as the A-11) reclaimed the world absolute speed record from the USSR. It was clocked at 2,062 mph over Edwards Air Force Base.

How big is the YF-12A?

The exact dimensions of the YF-12A have not been released yet. But it's approximately 100 feet long, with about a 50-foot wingspan. That's half again as big as our present interceptors!

Is the Air Force training many men as pilots these days?

Yes, very definitely. In spite of all you hear about unmanned vehicles, the human pilot is still very much in the picture. As a matter of fact, the Air Force pilot quota is on the increase.

What other kinds of jobs does the Air Force offer?

Since it's one of the world's foremost technological organizations, the Air Force has plenty of openings for scientists and engineers. There are also many challenging and varied administrative-managerial positions.

What do I have to do to become an Air Force officer?

Air Force ROTC is the best way to get started as an Air Force officer. The new two-year Air Force ROTC program makes this method available to men who have already completed a year or two of their college education. For college graduates, if you did not take advantage of ROTC, you can still get started through Air Force Officer Training School (OTS), a three-month course open to both men and women.

Can I keep up my studies while I'm in the Air Force?

The Air Force encourages its men and women to continue their educations. For instance, you may qualify to study for a graduate degree during off-duty hours, with the Air Force paying a substantial part of the tuition.

What kind of future do I have in the Air Force?

A bright one. As we move further into the Aerospace Age, the Air Force is going to grow even more important. And you can grow with it!
