

Gammas Render Community Services

Gamma Sigma Sigma National Service Sorority is the newest sorority on NCCU's campus. It is a sorority composed of college and university women, and its purpose is "to assemble college women in the spirit of service to humanity." At present there are 43 members on campus.

Gamma Sigma Sigma was first organized at NCCU last spring through the efforts of their brother fraternity Alpha Phi Omega, which desired to have sisters here to aid them in their programs of service to the campus, community, and nation.

Since that time these young ladies have worked faithfully in giving their time to the University. Some of the projects they have undertaken are: helping with voter registration in the Durham community, ushering at special assemblies, finding donors for the blood mobile, soliciting money for the Heart Fund, collecting money for the Law School, giving Easter and Halloween parties for needy children, and aiding their brothers in operating the lost-and-found department on campus.

The Gamma Sigma Sigma National Service Sorority gave some 500 children enrolled in Pearson Elementary School a Halloween party on Friday, October 24. The theme was "Happiness is a Spooky Halloween." Students in grades one to four were eligible for participation, if they wore masks.

According to Sara Streeter, president of the sorority, "This was quite an experience. There was great pleasure in serving the students who were entertained with various games, dancing, and fortune telling.

The girls of Gamma have planned other projects of this kind for the near future.

PEM CLUB WINS IAA CROWN

The Physical Education Majors Club combined a powerful offense with an awesome defense to capture the 1969 flag football championship by stunning the Mustangs 22-6. By virtue of their win the PEM Club becomes the second team to go undefeated in intramural flag-ball competition; the Law School was the first to attain this feat only a year ago.

The Mustangs, last year's runner-up, drew first blood as halfback Joe Dragg, behind the excellent blocking of James Avery, raced around right end for a 42-yard scoring play. With the clock showing 1:15 in the first period the PAT was wide.

The PEM Club got on the scoreboard midway through the second period when Henry Simmons plunged over from the three following a 76-yard Wall to Cameron pass play. Quarterback Wall again found Cameron in the end zone for the two point conversion. The PEM Club took a 8-6 half-time lead into the dressing room.

The second half was a display of a powerful PEM defense and a Mustang offense which pushed the panic button. The PEM's intercepted five Doug Johnson's passes during the period; one was a 96-yard pick-off in the end zone by Robert Braswell who raced to the Mustang's four-yard line before being hauled down from behind. After a five-yard penalty for off-side Wall sneaked in from the nine for the score. With 4:12 remaining in the game, Wall hit halfback John Brunson for the PAT and a 16-6 lead.

All league Ronald Robinson accounted for the final PEM score on a 94 yard pitch out play. Robinson was tackled by no less than defenders but he bulled, scrapped, clawed, and pushed his way in for the score. Samuel King's try for the PAT was short. Final score: PEM Club, 22; Mustangs, 6.

The PEM Club nine gained 196 yards rushing and 136 passing for 332 yards total offense. The Mustangs gained 117 yards total offense on 67 passing yards and 50 yards rushing. Penalties went heavily against the PEM Club as they were penalized 120 yards on 10 calls to 15 yards on one call against the Mustangs. The Mustangs collected five first downs to 16 for the PEM Club.

Marvelous Gary Wall led both teams in pushing with 78 yards on five carries for a 15.6 yard per carry average. This feat won for Gary the most outstanding offensive player award. The entire PEM Club fearsome front four were picked for the defensive honors. The group included Charlie Knox, Robert Braswell, Horace Cameron and Samuel "Killer" Vaughan.

Ask the people involved with jobs for minority groups —about Aetna.

There's a lot more to be done. But we feel we've made a start. With a number of pioneer programs for the disadvantaged. One teaches men to work computers. Another helps women learn office skills. Still another gets non-drivers qualified for licenses—and jobs.

Some go to work for Aetna, but there are no strings attached. The important thing is we've prepared them for good jobs.

We understand human needs like these. Our business may be selling insurance. But our concern is people.

Aetna is the kind of place where you can do good and make good, too.

OUR CONCERN IS PEOPLE
