

bus schedule or help a patient make a local or long distance phone call. Guides secure meal tickets from the fund earmarked for that purpose, if, and when, we sense a patient is in need of such aid.

"The O.P.C. Registration Office calls on us occasionally to guide a patient or relative, or to go to the record library and obtain a clinic card for someone unable to go himself. If there aren't many patients to be guided, we can offer to interview a patient, or go and chat with someone who has been waiting a long time. On two or three occasions we have found patients waiting in the wrong clinic!

"Our work is mainly around the O.P.C. clinics, but we do guide many patients to P.D.C. The regular routine of a guide is to direct patients to all clinics, blood bank, record library, business and admitting office, pharmacy, drug store, coffee counter, shop cart, rest rooms, or any other area they wish to reach. That should be merely the basis for our work.

"It is always a pleasure to help our dear Miss Barbour in O.P.C. Chest X-Ray Department in any way we can—especially when 200 or so students come through for routine chest x-rays in two or three days. At that time, extra guides are needed for clerical work and the regular clinic patients are still there to be cared for.

"Soon the O.P.C. Department will be moving to the new wing. We are looking forward to our new duties there and hope we can be of assistance to both the patients and the staff."

Did you know that the National Headquarters for Hospital Auxiliaries publishes a newsletter? This is called the Hospital Auxiliary Newsletter and any Auxiliary members may subscribe. The rate is $2.00 per year. Subscriptions will be taken at our Annual meeting. And do put the date for the Annual meeting on your calendar: Tuesday, April 23, at 7:30 P.M. in the Graduate Dormitory. We will have reports and election of officers. Dean Jacobansky of the School of Nursing will speak to us about hospital careers. This is a good chance to get better acquainted with the Nursing School. Don't miss it.

Welcome to another new volunteer who has joined us. Mrs. E. C. Horne is working with the Children's Service.

This 'n' That

Physical Therapy

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Peake who became the proud parents of a girl, Cynthia Warren, Feb. 25.

On Wednesday, March 20, a dinner party was held at Hartman's to say farewell to Miss Eleanor Flanagan and Miss Jenell Smith. Eleanor is now on leave of absence while doing graduate work in the Department of Physiology. Jenell leaves for Greenville, S. C. where she will join Rae Litaker (class of '55) on the Physical Therapy Staff of Greenville General Hospital.

We are pleased to welcome several former Duke graduates to the Physical Therapy Staff, Mrs. Grace Eaton, a member of the last class; Roy Gilchrist from the class of '51; and Mrs.

Nancy Redding, formerly at Rex Hospital and now living in Chapel Hill.

Miss Helen Kaiser has just returned from New York City where she attended a Post-Graduate Institute for Physical Therapists on Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation for the Arthritic Patient at New York University and Bellevue Medical Center.

Anesthesiology

Recent guests of the Department were: Dr. Gino Munilli from Rome, Italy; Dr. Ellis from Montreal, Canada; Mr. and Mrs. Erpenbeck of Ayerst Laboratories; and Dr. Ronald Woolmer, London, England.

Dr. Stephen was in Asheville March 25-29 as an examiner for the American Board of Anesthesiology Oral Examinations.

Dr. Bourgeois presented a paper at the International Congress of International Anesthesia Research Society at its annual meeting in Phoenix, Arizona, March 31-April 4.

Dr. Leonard Fabian attended the Azalea Festival in Wilmington with the Duke Ambassadors.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Gardner on the birth of a daughter April 1. Mrs. Gardner is the former Mrs. Mary Hiers and is Educational Director for the School of Nurse Anesthetists.

Dr. Doris Grosskreutz attended the Southern Society of Anesthesiologists meeting in New Orleans April 4-6.

Ronald Krueger, Laboratory Assistant, spent the spring holidays in Fort Lauderdale, with friends.

Duke Hospital
Durham, N. C.