

Physical Therapy Department

About 70 students from near-by colleges attended the Physical Therapy Open House on May 21. It was a pleasure, too, to welcome so many interested members of the University Community.

We are pleased to announce two new appointments to the Physical Therapy Staff, Mrs. Nancy Redding and John Riebel. Mrs. Redding, a graduate of Skidmore College and the U. S. Army Training Program in Physical Therapy, was formerly associated with Rex and James Walker Memorial Hospitals and will serve as a student supervisor in the Physical Therapy Clinic. Mr. Riebel, a graduate of North Central College and the Duke Physical Therapy Course, is a former member of the Duke Physical Therapy Staff. He served as acting director of the Physical Therapy Course in 1946. After receiving his B.D. degree from Yale University in 1949, Mr. Riebel has been engaged in Y.M.C.A. administrative and student counselling activities. For the past six years he has been Associate Director of the Y.M.C.A. at the University of North Carolina. Mr. Riebel will serve as student counsellor and co-ordinator of education to the Physical Therapy Program.

John's first assignment was to cover the Institute on the "Correlation of Physics and Physiology in the Teaching of Electrotherapeutic and Testing Procedures" sponsored by the Office of Vocational Rehabilitation and the American Physical Therapy Association at the University of Oklahoma.

Helen Kaiser has been busy with committee meetings—as a member of the planning committee of the above Institute and as a member of the American Physical Therapy Association Advisory Committee on Education which recently met in Washington, D. C. Another trip was to Asheville to speak to the Southern District Meeting of the Association for Health, Physical Education, and Recreation on "Methods Used to Develop Muscular Strength."

Mrs. Martha Brewer was our representative to an Institute on "Preparation for Child Birth" held recently in Jackson, Miss.

Mrs. Polytimi Pateli from Athens, Greece, an International Cooperation Administration fellowship student, is spending several months visiting the Physical Therapy Department. Mrs. Pateli is assistant to Maria Magalou, Duke P.T. '53, Director of Physical Therapy at the Rehabilitation Center in Athens.

Bacteriology

Mr. Pierre Doupagne of the Belgian Congo is spending three weeks studying under Dr. N. F. Conant in the Mycology Lab.

Ruby McCracken and Duffy Moore, second year medical student, were married Feb. 22 and they reside at 2511 Club Blvd.—By Martha Hadley.

Business Office

The Hospital Business Office is looking forward to some extensive renovation and expansion when the OPD moves into the new building this summer. By fall we hope to have enough room to spread out a bit.

We are happy to welcome into our office Mrs. Bonnie Kyles and Miss Patsy Yarborough. Both are busy learning to operate our new accounting machines. Patsy and Bonnie claim that these machines will do almost anything if you punch the right button.

The Yankees have invaded the South, 1957 style. In this case a Yankee is carrying Pat Kurtz off to Boston. Best wishes to Pat and Paul Judge who are to marry in the fall.

Nancy Balltzglier presented her husband, Harold, with a new little Balltzglier in March and is now back at work in the Programs Office. Cindy Lou is the newest addition's name.

With hot weather here the beach has again become the favorite spot for week-end travelers. Joan Anderson, Nancy King, Pat Kurtz, and Carol

Smith recently decorated the sand dunes of the North Carolina coast.

—By Nina Waite.

Post Office

Mrs. Rachel Babinec and husband Paul are the proud parents of a new son, who was born May 16. They also have another son Pauly, three years old. Mrs. Babinec is being replaced during her leave of absence by Mrs. Faith Gallegas.

Mrs. Josephine Marchant spent May 24 and 25 in Greensboro visiting friends and relatives.

—By Mrs. H. V. Driver.

Ob-Gyn

We welcome back to the service Dr. W. L. Thomas who is now in full swing after convalescing at home; also a welcome to Dr. Bayard Carter, back from Europe.

It is with regret that Dr. Yancey G. Culton, Jr., has to leave us for the time being to aid Uncle Sam in the Air Force somewhere in Texas . . . we wish him luck.

Dr. Alfred Linkletter has returned to Boston Lying-In Hospital after spending the month of May observing and helping around in the clinic and ward. We welcome back Dr. Edward B. Mabry who replaced Dr. Linkletter in Boston for the month of May.

Dr. Charles Flynn is back after a restful vacation and will be ready to go again if the beautiful weather continues.

Dr. J. B. Williams is back from Boca Grande, Fla. after three months' practice there, and he was glad to be back in the old routine; we missed him also while away.

Congratulations to Drs. Violet and Larry Turner on a beautiful daughter!
—By Jo Thompson.

Biochemistry

May has been a lively month here in biochemistry. A picnic was planned on May the 11th, but was accompanied by rain. Nevertheless, the whole crowd filed into a camp mess hall at Umstead State Park . . . amid children a lots of good food a fine