Physical Therapy

Our congratulations to John Reibel and Ellie Flanagan who, within days of each other, completed the requirements for the M.A. at Duke University; John in anatomy and Ellie in physiology.

The start of the academic year sees two staff members undertake further education: Bill Schmidt to continue graduate work at UNC and Beth Ussher to begin study for a Masters in Public Health at the UNC School of Public Health.

Nancy Warner has ventured into a new position as Co-ordinator for Extension Services in Physical Therapy for Duke University Medical Center and Durham County. Established in conjunction with the state and local health departments, the project provides for physical therapy to be given in the homes and nursing homes of the community.

Welcome to Barbara Burgin of Zurich, Switzerland, trainee; Mr. Afzal Quarishi of Karachi, Pakistan, trainee; Mrs. Julie Smith, staff member; Mrs. Sara Porter, secretary for the Physical Therapy School; and Thurman Forte, orderly. Good luck to Leanor Lalinda in her new post at the University of Illinois.
