

The Country Fair and Carnival for 1962 is over, but not the memories. Do you recall the Country Fair in 1958? Everyone worried about the weather except Mrs. Bayard Carter. Her faith was justified then and so it was this year. The crowd was large but orderly. The cokes were cold and the hot dogs hot. Activities for young and old (pony rides, twist dances, tinkers' delight, a book booth) were available; some were free—City Recreation Department, Childrens' Museum, Art Exhibit, Civil Air Patrol; the rest charged small admission fees.

Participation by Mayor Evans and TV personalities Captain Five, Bozo the Clown, Hoppy the Rabbit, and Jolly the Toy Soldier, entranced the public. Cooperation (the Merchants' Association, Marine Reserve, Army Reserve from Fort Bragg, Duke University officials and workers, Allied Arts members and Duke Hospital staff and Auxiliary members) was the secret of a wonderful day for all.

(Duke photos by Sparks)