

From The Auxiliary

The end of summer marks the departure of the faithful Candystripers and the return of many regular volunteers who have been on vacation. Without the cheerful presence of the girls in the pink and white striped pinafores, the Auxiliary services would have to be curtailed even more during the summer months. With their help, both coffee counters have operated full time; the guide service has continued; and the shop cart has been available at least several days a week. Over 100 girls gave approximately 7500 hours of vacation time to service for Duke Hospital patients and visitors. In addition to the usual Auxiliary services, the girls also served in various clinics, in the Post Office, at the Emergency Desk and in the Clinical Research Unit. In appreciation, the Auxiliary entertained the Candystripers with a swimming party and buffet supper on September 10 at the home of Mrs. O. E. Esval in Hope Valley. Service cards showing the number of hours given were presented to each girl. We are grateful for their help and will look forward to their return next year.

Welcome Back Dr. Hart!

We welcome Dr. Hart back to the Medical Center. We are delighted to once again have the concentration of his talents all to ourselves, although we and the entire University benefited during his successful presidency.

Dr. Clarence Gardner continues as chairman of the department of surgery. Dr. Hart, as professor of surgery, hopes to teach and serve in a consultant capacity in that department. He will serve, also, on the Medical Center Building Committee and the Committee on Health Affairs. He does not plan to resume research projects or private patient practice at the present time.

This fall his time will be devoted primarily to a full report on his three years as President.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

Of all the things we wear, our expression is the most important—it shows, too.

DR. WILLIAM G. ANLYAN

Dr. Anlyan Named Associate Dean

Dr. William G. Anlyan, a member of the department of surgery since 1951, has been appointed Associate Dean of the Duke University School of Medicine. The associate deanship was created because of the growing size and complexity of the School of Medicine and closely associated units of the Duke Medical Center. Also, the division of administrative duties will permit Dean Woodhall to devote more time to his duties as Vice-Provost of the University with responsibility for medical and health affairs.

Dr. Woodhall said of the appointment that "Dr. Anlyan has demonstrated his administrative talents in a number of capacities, both within the Medical Center and as a member of policy groups concerned with the entire University. We are confident that as associate dean, he will make an invaluable contribution to the progress of the School of Medicine."

Dr. Anlyan holds the academic rank of professor of surgery. He plans to continue his activities as a teacher, practicing surgeon and researcher in the department of surgery.

Auxiliary Candystripers swap their pinafores for swim suits and shorts at an end-of-the-summer get-together.