ON THE GO

May was a full month for at least three physical therapists. Gladys Hart attended a symposium in Cleveland; Judy Cantey visited Western Reserve University for a short course; and Miss Helen Kaiser served as the physical therapy representative of the accrediting team visiting the University of Iowa.

Eleanor Flanagan was on the program of a recent meeting of the Georgia Chapter of the APTA in Atlanta . . . in June she will be attending a course in Manual Muscle Testing at UNC at Chapel Hill . . . and in August she will be teaching a short course at UNC. Grace Horton and Kathy LeGuin of the PT Department will be enrolling for Miss Flanagan's course.

Also taking advantage of summer courses at Chapel Hill will be Jane Culbertson, a physical therapy trainee in Public Health.

June 27-July 2 will find Miss Helen Kaiser, Grace Horton, and Eleanor Flanagan with the entire physical therapy class at the APTA National Conference to be held in Cleveland, Ohio.

***

Mrs. Martha J. Scoggins, Director of Housekeeping, will be attending the National Executive Housekeepers Conference in New York City from June 23-27. She will be one of several hundred executive housekeepers expected to attend. When she's not busy "meeting," Mrs. Scoggins hopes to take a peek at the "housekeeping" at Flushing Meadow Park!

***

Occupational Therapy announces that Miss Bernice Belue recently attended an Organization and Administration Institute sponsored by the AHA and the AOTA and held in Roanoke, Virginia. Earlier, Miss Belue, Miss Lennon and Mrs. Brooks attended the spring meeting of the NCOTA at Goodwill Industries in Winston-Salem.

***

Nursing Service reports that "it was off to Europe by Whisper Jet" on June 10 for Miss Margaret Mitchell, Assistant Director of Nursing Service, Mrs. Sarah Jeffreys, surgical nursing supervisor, and Miss Peggy Postlethwait, a staff nurse on INU. They will be attending the International Council of Nurses Congress to be held in Frankfurt, Germany. Their trip began on an exciting note, for the group landed in London on the morning of June 11 just in time to help the English celebrate the queen's birthday. Before returning July 1, the trio will visit England, France, Switzerland, Italy and Germany.

***

Miss Jane Bailey, Director of In-service Education for Nursing Service, attended an Inservice Education Institute in Boston May 23-27. The Institute was co-sponsored by the AHA and the NLN. From Boston, Miss Bailey took a side-trip into New York and the World's Fair.
