

AT STATE L.P.N. WORKSHOP—Participants in the state-wide session pictured above, from left to right, were Mrs. Flossie Kennedy of Black Mountain and Mrs. Peggy Daniel of Rockwell, both members of the association's Education Committee; Mrs. Delma Slade, a student at Durham Technical Institute; Mrs. Pearl Holman of Durham, and Mrs. Mavis Ray of Raleigh, chairman of the Education Committee. (photo courtesy of the Durham Sun)

State L. P. N. Workshop Held at Duke in October

Duke played host to a statewide nursing workshop on cancer October 30. Approximately 500 licensed practical nurses from North Carolina attended the day-long session.

The workshop, sponsored by North Carolina Practical Nurses Association, featured members of the Duke staff as participants. Dr. Charles H. Peete, professor of obstetrics and gynecology, served as keynote speaker with a talk on cancer of the cervix.

A panel discussion titled "The Patient has Cancer" opened the program. Included on the panel were Miss Evelyn Morgan, head nurse on the new Cancer Research Unit; Dr. John Laszlo, chief of medicine at the Veterans Administration Hospital; Mrs. Judy Moreland, R. N., head nurse on Third West; the Rev. William Crittenden, a chaplain resident; and Dr. William Gray, a psychiatrist.

Lecturers for the afternoon session were Dr. Sigfried Heyden, associate professor of community health sciences, who spoke on the epidemiology of cancer of the cervix; Dr. John Evans, professor of radiology, who talked about radiation therapy, and Miss Sue Norville, assistant professor in the School of Nursing, who discussed the responsibility of nurses taking care of cancer patients.

The program was planned by the North Carolina L. P. N. Association Education Committee. Mrs. Elizabeth Burroughs, a Duke L. P. N., is a member of the committee.

Anlyan Chairman-Elect of AAMC

The Medical Center's vice president for health affairs is the new chairman-elect of the Association of American Medical Colleges (AAMC).

Dr. William G. Anlyan, who served as chairman of the AAMC's Council of Deans last year, will assume elective leadership of the organization next year. The association is the group mainly responsible for overseeing administrative and educational developments in American medical schools and teaching hospitals.

The current chairman is Dr. Robert Howard, dean of medicine at the University of Minnesota.

Dr. Daniel C. Tosteson, chairman of the Department of Physiology-Pharmacology, was elected chairman of the AAMC's Council of Academic Societies.

Duke's new director of medical education, Dr. Thomas D. Kinney, is a former chairman of that society and currently serves as its representative to the association's executive council.

The Council of Academic Societies, the Council of Deans, and the Council of Teaching Hospitals together make up the membership of the AAMC.

A graduate of the Yale School of Medicine, Dr. Anlyan has been at Duke since 1949. A professor of surgery, he was dean of the School of Medicine and associate provost for medical affairs until the Board of Trustees promoted him to vice president earlier this year.

The Chef's Corner

PUMPKIN DREAM PIE

This is a mild, fluffy version of everyone's holiday favorite.

1 cup canned pumpkin
3/4 tsp. pumpkin pie spice
1 package instant vanilla pudding
2/3 cup milk
1/2 tsp. vanilla
1/2 cup milk
1 package Dream Whip

1 8-inch pie shell

Bake pie shell until golden brown.

Make Dream Whip according to package directions using vanilla and 1/2 cup milk.

Mix one cup of the Dream Whip with pumpkin, pudding, pumpkin pie spice, and 2/3 cup milk. Beat slowly with mixer for one minute.

Pour mixture into baked pie shell and chill two hours. Top pie with remaining Dream Whip before serving.

Send your favorite recipe to Intercom, Box 3354.

STUDENT BLOOD DRIVE BEGINS—R. N. Martha Parrish of the Blood Bank does preliminary tests on third-year medical student Elaine Belmaker before Mrs. Belmaker gave her pint of blood to the drive. Proceeds will go for scholarships for disadvantaged students. (photo by Jim Wallace)